HOUSE JOURNAL

SESSION 1979

FIRST DAY

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, January 10, 1979

This day, in accordance with the Constitution of the State of North Carolina and G.S. 120-11.1, which fixes the date for the meeting of the General Assembly of North Carolina, the members of the House of Representatives assemble in the House Chamber of the State Legislative Building in the City of Raleigh at 12:00 Noon and are called to order by the Honorable Thad Eure, Secretary of State.

Prayer is offered by Dr. Albert G. Edwards, Pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Raleigh, North Carolina.

"O Sovereign God, we thank Thee that Thou hast made us and preserved us, a noble and worthy State as You have worked with the committed and the courageous and with the weak and the wayward.

"We thank Thee that as we face the beginning of another legislative session, that the men and women of this House can be assured of Thy strengthening presence, Thy reconciling grace, Thy all-sufficient wisdom and Thy abiding friendship. Thus strengthened by such Divine blessings, may they be enabled to keep their honor bright, their lives clean, and their motives pure so that when this session ends they will hear from those they represent, the highest accolade of all, 'Well done, well done'.

"We offer our prayer in God's strong name, Amen."

The roll is called and all of the Members-elect, except Mr. William T. Watkins, answer when their names are called. Representative Church reports that Mr. Watkins is absent due to illness.

The one hundred nineteen Members-elect who are present, appear with proper certificates of election, take and subscribe to the following oath of office, which is administered by the Honorable Joseph Branch, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

OATH FOR MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

"I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution and laws of the United States; and,

"I do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain, and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; and,

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully discharge my duties as a Member of the 1979 House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, to the best of my skill and ability, so help me, God."

One hundred nineteen Members having answered the roll call, the Secretary of State declares a quorum is present.

The Secretary of State announces that the first order of business is the election of a Speaker and declares that nominations are in order:

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Representative John R. Gamble places in nomination the name of Representative Carl J. Stewart, Jr., of Gaston County, Speaker of the 1977 House of Representatives, for Speaker of the 1979 House of Representatives.

"Mr. Chairman, Honored Guests, Members of the House, Friends and Visitors.

"Today, we are privileged to be part of an historic event in the life of the North Carolina General Assembly. As you know, the Constitution of 1868 changed the name of the House of Commons to the House of Representatives, and changed the Session from an annual to a biennial one. No Speaker of the House of Representatives has succeeded himself for over 100 years. Today, we are to consider such a nominee.

"Two years ago we chose a Speaker on his personality and character, his intellectual and scholastic achievements, his govermental experience, and political acumen. Our decision has been vindicated - he has served us well.

"Now, it is again my honor to propose him to you, but on his distinguished record and the potential his many talents hold for our State. The Speakership of this House has long been recognized as a crucible for greatness.

"Over the past two years we have seen the Speaker rise to every occasion. He has presided over this Chamber with dignity, dispatch, and evenhandedness, but still, there was an atmosphere where the sparkle of humor was appreciated.

"The operation of the Speaker's office has been efficient and responsive. His willingness to work long hours and to utilize a well-chosen staff are the hallmarks of a capable administrator.

"I offer, that in that office, members of this House have found someone who displayed a gracious concern for them, and their needs; found someone accessible for advice or help. Further, he demonstrated an obvious willingness to allow the appointed committees and their chairmen to operate with freedom.

"At the state and national levels, his participation in those affairs has shown him to have a resourceful and agile mind - shown him to be a thinker, as well as a doer.

"In such forums, he is a forceful and articulate spokesman for North Carolina philosophy and governmental policy - showing himself to understand complex issues, and to articulate such material in an understandable and interesting, as well as an entertaining fashion.

"Now, Mr. Chairman, there is more to be said, but I shall leave that to others; however, I shall not pass without offering a salute to his mother; his sister, Ruth and her husband, Bill; his children, Rome, Lisa, Julie and Robert; and to his wife, Donna.

"Therefore, Mr. Chairman, in the deep conviction that the person whom I offer is eminently qualified to lead this House for the next two years, and be afforded the honor and distinction of being the first Speaker to succeed himself in modern times, I nominate as Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives, Carl Jerome Stewart, Jr. of Gaston County.

"Thank you."

The nomination is seconded by Representative Patricia Hunt.

"Mr. Secretary, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, it is my pleasure and privilege to second the nomination of Carl J. Stewart, Jr. as Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives.

"Those of you who are now beginning your first term are very fortunate to have the opportunity to vote for a person whose skill, competence, and integrity has already been tested and found true. It is a most frustrating experience to come to vote for a person you do not know and vote on blind faith.

"We are fortunate, indeed, to have the privilege to vote for an outstanding person, a true leader in the State of North Carolina. We do not set a precedent for two-term speakers today; rather we make an exception to the precedent of one-term speakers. We compliment ourselves by this vote of reaffirmation of the excellence of our Speaker.

"As I remember my remarks of two years ago about Carl, I recall a sentence - 'Leadership is born and then created'. Carl has not let his talents lie fallow. He has developed and improved his God-given abilities.

"I cannot speak for the women, but I speak in their name. Carl Stewart has done so much to spread the leadership responsibilities of this General Assembly to its women that I stand in the name of women to proudly and gratefully second the nomination of Carl J. Stewart for Speaker of the House."

The nomination is also seconded by Representative Roy Spoon.

"Mr. Chairman, Honored Guests and Members of the General Assembly. I have always been captivated by words. Sometimes you will find a word that means much more than our common definitions.

"For example, in ancient Rome, it was popular for the elite to keep statues in their homes. Statues became a status symbol, and almost every home had more than one.

"Thus, a new industry was created, and a lot of statues were made, a lot of money was made, and a lot of mistakes were made. Sometimes a chisel would slip, and an elbow or ear of a statue would be broken off. What do you do with an Adonis without an ear? Well, the Roman artists were resourceful. They would carefully blend wax to the exact shade of the statue and repair it so that a lay person would never know.

"To stop this sale of inferior statues, the Roman Government passed a law stating that broken statues must be sold as seconds, and the perfect statues should be designated as 'sans cera' (without wax).

" 'Sans cera' translates today into the word 'sincerity' which means pure and without cover-up.

"I have known Carl Stewart for some time now, and 'sans cera' describes him better than any other word. Carl is a man unblemished, without wax. A man who does what he says he's going to do, a man who cares about the State of North Carolina and its people.

"I speak to you today as House Minority Leader. Over the past two years, we have watched Carl Stewart's performance as Speaker. We have been impressed by his ability and pleased by his sense of fair play.

"Certainly, we as the Loyal Opposition will disagree at times, but we shall disagree with amiability. I am proud to second the nomination of Carl J. Stewart as Speaker."

The Nomination is also seconded by Representative James Clarke.

"Mr. Secretary and Fellow Members of the House:

"It is a great honor and pleasure to second the nomination of Carl J. Stewart for Speaker of the 1979 House of Representatives.

"In his first term as Speaker, Carl did a superb job—perhaps the best of any Speaker in this Century. He was fair to friend and foe alike. He had seemingly endless patience and endurance and he was good when the going got tough.

"Carl demonstrated an unbelievable grasp of the more than 2,000 bills considered by the 1977 House. As a Freshman, I thought he knew what every bill was and where it was all the time - and I still think so.

"Carl Stewart really believes in the democratic process. He is a tireless, efficient servant of this House and of the State of North Carolina. Also, as Horton Rountree says, he can make it very plain to the Governor and our Colleagues across the Hall just what this House will and will not do.

"He has a great sense of humor, which helps a lot in keeping the ball rolling.

"With his charming and attractive wife, Donna, to encourage and aid him,Carl will do an even more outstanding job this year than he did in 1977 and 1978. I am proud to second the nomination of Carl J. Stewart for Speaker of the 1979 House."

The nomination is also seconded by Representative Hartwell Campbell.

"Mr. Secretary, Fellow Members of this distinguished House, Friends and Visitors. By this time I would have expected to hear that Carl J. Stewart was a son of Duke University having graduated in 1954, achieving the honor of Phi Beta Kappa. He was a graduate of Duke Law School, who was honored as a Firestone Scholar, and he served as president of the student body of that institution. I am happy to note, since no one observed, that he was a champion debater of the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the last debate which he won was in rebutal with Donna Peters. This makes us all glad.

"Now everyone is not trained and schooled as a capable leader of people as our Speaker because not everyone reads, listens, observes and thinks as he. Very few go further than to assimilate the bits of information and have creative thoughts, but our nominee is such a person. Not only is he known for his ability as a thinker and a doer, his home city honored him with the Distinguished Service Award as Gastonia's outstanding Young Man of the Year. We know Carl and we love Carl and we honor him by electing him to the highest position that this House affords. I am pleased to join in seconding the nomination of Carl J. Stewart, Jr."

There being no further nominations, the Secretary of State declares the nominations closed and requests that the roll of the House be called. The following members vote for Representative Stewart: Representatives Adams, Auman, Barbee, Barker, Barnes, Beard, Bell, Bissell, Bone, Brennan, Bright, Brown, Brubaker, Bumgardner, Bundy, Campbell, Carter, Chapin, Church, D. Clark, W. Clark, J. Clarke, Coble, Collins, Colton, Cook, Covington, Cullipher, Davis, DeRamus, Diamount, Easterling, Economos, Edwards, Ellis, Enloe, Bob Etheridge, Bruce Ethridge, Evans, Ezzell, Falls, Foster, Frye, Fulcher, Fussell, Gamble, Gentry, Grady, Greenwood, Guy, Harris, Haworth, Helms, Hightower, Hobgood, E. Holmes, G. Holmes, Holroyd, B. Holt, C. Holt, J. Hunt, P. Hunt, Huskins, Hux, James, Jernigan, Johnson, Jordan, Kaplan, Keesee, Kemp, Lacey, Lambeth, Lancaster, Ledford, Lilley, Locklear, Lutz, McAlister, McDowell, McMillan, Merritt, Messer, Miller, Morgan, Morris, Nash, Nesbitt, Nye, Parnell, Pegg, Phillips, Plyler, Poovey, Pulley, Quinn, Rabon, Ramsey, Redding, Revelle, Rhodes, Rountree, Rullman, Seymour, Smith, Spaulding, Spoon, Tally, Taylor, Tennille, Thomas, Tison, Tyson, Varner, White, B. Woodard, W. Woodard, and Wright.

Mr. Stewart having received all the votes is declared Speaker - the first Speaker to succeed himself in this State for more than 100 years.

The Speaker, escorted to the Chair by Representatives Henry Frye, Margaret Tennille, Martin Lancaster, Ernest Messer, and John J. Hunt, takes and subscribes to the following oath of office administered by the Honorable James G. Exum, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

"I, Carl J. Stewart, Jr., do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution and laws of the United States; and,

"I do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; and,

"I do solemnly swear that I will well and truly execute the duties of the office of Speaker of the 1979 House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina to the best of my skill and ability, according to laws; so help me, God."

The Speaker, Mr. Stewart, approaches the dais and makes the following remarks:

"Mr. Secretary of State, Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, Members of the Council of State, Fellow House Members, My Family and Friends, Ladies and Gentlemen.

"This day is charged with special excitement for me. Most of the people that I care most about in the world are in this great hall today. I realize that I will not be privileged to do this again, and it is only because of your generosity that I have been permitted to do it a second time. It is truly a gift and one that I will never forget.

"1978 may well be remembered as a year of national awakening. Conventional political wisdom has been rendered obsolete. Constituents have become more vocal, if not shrill in their demands. The advent of comprehensive compaign finance reporting, economic interest disclosure, and vigorous investigative reporting - not to mention the growing complexity of Government - have all contrived to make public service something less than the most sought after profession.

"I take the view, however, that an aroused electorate, for whatever reason, is the best possible antidote to tyranny. It is as true in 1979 Iran as it was in 1779 Colonial America. As Legislators, we are being asked by the people of our State and of our Nation to listen more attentively, to be more responsive to their opinions, their hopes, their needs. We are being asked to govern not only by edict, but by example. We are being asked to be honest, to be frugal, to be compassionate.

"I do not believe those requests are unreasonable, indeed, they should help us to set about the task of removing so much callousness from the political decision making process.

"If we listen, as we should, we can hear the people saying that Government, at all levels, is growing too rapidly, has become too impersonal, and is the most frequently cited example of inefficiency in the world.

"We can hear them saying that Legislators are fiduciaries, trustees of their tax dollars and should be held strictly accountable for their expenditure and should return to them any unexpended portion not essential to the maintenance of state services.

"We can hear them saying that competence, not glamour or glibness, is the single most important attribute of a government official.

"We can hear them saying that without a job, and without a stable dollar, and without a stable price on life's necessities, they cannot share in the fruits of the great American dream.

"These reflections about 1978, however accurate, are a fitting prelude to what will be an interesting and, I suspect, exhausting 1979 Session. I am more convinced than ever that the work of this Session can be completed in four months. Each day we remain beyond that will cost the taxpayers of North Carolina an additional $23,000.

"During the last two years you have set a high standard for meeting head-on North Carolina's most pressing economic and social problems. By legislation you have focused attention on the quality of elementary and secondary education as never before.

"You have made a committment to industrial expansion and balanced economic growth unequaled in the State's history and the result will be more jobs and higher wages for our people.

"You have reasserted our respect and support for North Carolina's older citizens to insure their full participation in the life of our State.

"You have reduced our prison population, strenghtened our criminal laws, restrained utility rates, and moved to protect our water and air resources.

"During the weeks ahead, hundreds of decisions will be made in this Chamber and in the committee rooms of this beautiful building. As we make those decisions, let's resolve to summon up our finest instincts. Let's resolve not to withdraw from the people we serve but to reach out to them. And then, we may understand the meaning of John Donne's words of more than three centuries ago when he said:

> 'No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main; if a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manor of thy friends or of thine own were. Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind: and therefore, never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee.'

"Thank you."

The Speaker assumes the duties of the Chair.

On motion of Representative Liston Ramsey, the rules of the House of Representatives for 1977, with the following amendment, are adopted as temporary rules for the 1979 House of Representatives.

"Amend Rule 27 by striking the words 'Banks and Banking' and insert in lieu thereof 'Banks and Thrift Institutions'.

"Further amend by striking the words 'Professional Law Enforcement Personnel and Practice' and insert in lieu thereof 'Law Enforcement'.

"Also further amend by striking the words 'Commercial Fisheries and Oyster Industry' and insert in lieu thereof 'Commercial Fishing'."

The Speaker announces that nominations are in order for Speaker Pro Tempore.

Representative J. P. Huskins places the name of H. Horton Rountree in nomination for Speaker Pro Tempore. The nomination is seconded by Representatives John Church and Gordon Greenwood.

On motion of Representative Parks Helms, Representative Rountree is elected by acclamation.

The Speaker Pro Tempore takes and subscribes to the following oath of office administered by the Honorable James G. Exum, Associate Justice, Supreme Court of North Carolina.

"I, H. Horton Rountree, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution and laws of the United States; and,

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT TO PERMIT THE LIMITED OPERATION OF RAFFLES AND BINGO GAMES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G. S. 14-292 is rewritten to read as follows:

"§14-292. Gambling.—Except as provided in G. S. 14-292.1, any person or organization that operates any game of chance or any person who plays at or bets on any game of chance at which any money, property or other thing of value is bet, whether the same be in stake or not, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

Sec. 2. Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding the following new section:

"§14-292.1. Bingo and raffles.—(a) It is lawful for an exempt organization to conduct raffles and bingo games in accordance with the provisions of this section. Any person who conducts a raffle or bingo game in violation of any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor under G. S. 14-292 and shall be punished in accordance with G. S. 14-3. Upon conviction such person shall not conduct a raffle or bingo game for a period of one year. It is lawful to participate in a raffle or bingo game conducted pursuant to this section. It shall not constitute a violation of State law to advertise a raffle or bingo game conducted in accordance with this section.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term:

(1) 'exempt organization' means an organization that has been in continuous existence in the county of operation of the raffle or bingo game for at least one year and that is exempt from taxation under Sections 501(c)(3), 501(c)(4), 501(c)(8), 501(c)(10), 501(c)(19), or 501(d) of the Internal Revenue Code or is exempt under similar provisions of North Carolina General Statutes as a bona fide nonprofit charitable, civic, religious, fraternal, patriotic or veterans' organization or as a nonprofit volunteer fire department, or as a nonprofit volunteer rescue squad or a bona fide homeowners' or property owners' association. (If the organization has local branches or chapters, the term 'exempt organization' means the local branch or chapter operating the raffle or bingo game);

(2) 'bingo game' means a specific game of chance played with individual cards having randomly numbered squares ranging from one to seventy-five, in which prizes are awarded on the basis of designated numbers on such cards conforming to a predetermined pattern of numbers selected at random (but shall not include 'instant bingo', which is a game of chance played by the selection of one or more prepacked cards, with winners determined by the appearance of a preselected designation on the card);

(3) 'raffle' means a lottery in which the prize is won by a random drawing of the name or number of one or more persons purchasing chances.

(c) The exempt organization must prominently display in the specific place or room where the raffle or bingo game is being conducted a determination letter (or a reproduction copy thereof) from the Internal Revenue Service or the North Carolina Department of Revenue that indicates that the organization is an exempt organization.

(d) The exempt organization may expend proceeds derived from a raffle or bingo game only for prizes, utilities and the purchase of supplies and equipment used in conducting the raffle and in playing bingo, taxes related to raffles and bingo, and the payment of compensation and rent as authorized by subsection (e) of this section. All proceeds remaining after the above authorized expenditures shall inure to the exempt organization to be used for religious, charitable, civic, scientific, testing for public safety, literary, or educational purposes, or for purchasing, constructing, maintaining, operating or using equipment or land or a building or improvements thereto owned by and for the exempt organization and used for civic purposes or made available by the exempt organization for use by the general public from time to time, or to foster amateur sports competition or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, provided that no proceeds shall be used or expended for social functions for the members of the exempt organization.

(e) No person may be compensated for conducting a raffle or bingo game. An exempt organization shall not contract with any person for the purpose of conducting a raffle or bingo game except that an exempt organization may lease space for such purpose at a fixed sum and not at a percentage of receipts or proceeds. Such leases shall be at a fixed rate not subject to change during the term of the lease. The provisions of this subsection notwithstanding, an exempt organization may compensate a person for conducting raffles or bingo games conducted at a fair or other exhibition conducted pursuant to Article 45 of Chapter 106 of the General Statutes.

(f) The number of sessions of bingo conducted or sponsored by an exempt organization shall be limited to two sessions per week and such sessions must not exceed a period of five hours each per county. No more than two session of bingo shall be operated or conducted in any one building, hall or structure during any one calendar week; provided, however, that two exempt organizations may operate up to two sessions of bingo each per week in the same building, hall or structure, if the organizations do not use the same equipment and personnel. Four consecutive nights of bingo may not be held on the same premises during any one calendar week. Raffles shall be limited to one per month per county. This subsection shall not apply to raffles or bingo games conducted at a fair or other exhibition conducted pursuant to Article 45 of Chapter 106 of the General Statutes.

(g) The maximum prize in cash or merchandise that may be offered or paid for any one game of bingo is five hundred dollars ($500.00). The maximum aggregate amount of prizes, in cash and/or merchandise, that may be offered or paid at any one session of bingo is one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500). Provided; however, that if an exempt organization holds only one session of bingo during a calendar week, the maximum aggregate amount of prizes, in cash and/or merchandise, that may be offered or paid at any one session is two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500). The maximum cash prize that may be offered or paid for any one raffle is five hundred dollars ($500.00).

(h) The operation of raffles or bingo games shall be the direct responsibility of, and controlled by, a special committee selected by the governing body of the exempt organization in the manner provided by the rules of the exempt organization. Upon their selection, the members of the committee shall register with the sheriff of the county in which the raffle or bingo game is to be conducted. The registration shall disclose the identity and address of the members of the committee and the exempt organization.

(i) All funds received in connection with a raffle or bingo game (except funds given as prizes in connection with a particular raffle or bingo game) shall be placed in a separate bank account. No funds may be disbursed from this account except for the purposes authorized by subsection (d) of this section. A separate account shall be kept of all funds received in connection with raffles or bingo games (including the amount of any prize) and the amount and purpose of any disbursement. An audit of the account shall be conducted annually by the special committee for the period July 1 to June 30. A copy of the audit shall be filed on or before September 15 of each year with the sheriff of the county in which the raffle or bingo game is conducted. All books, papers, records and documents relevant to determining whether an organization has acted or is acting in compliance with this section shall be open to inspection by the sheriff or his designee or the district attorney or his designee at reasonable times and during reasonable hours.

(j) A raffle or bingo game conducted otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this section is 'gambling' within the meaning of G. S. 19-1 et seq., and proceedings against such raffle or bingo game may be instituted as provided for in Chapter 19 of the General Statutes.

(k) Any exempt organization operating a bingo game or raffle which is open to persons other than members of the exempt organization, their spouses, and their children shall make such bingo game or raffle open to the general public.

(l) Nothing in this Article except subsection (k) of this section shall apply to bingo games when the only prize given is ten dollars ($10.00) or less or merchandise that is not redeemable for cash and that has a value of ten dollars ($10.00) or less. G. S. 18A-30(9) and G. S. 18A-35(h) shall apply to such games."

Sec. 7. All general or local laws that permit the operation of raffles or bingo games in counties or towns are repealed.

Sec. 8. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

APPENDIX

STATE OF THE STATE
ADDRESS TO THE NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN JOINT SESSION BY GOVERNOR JAMES B. HUNT, JR.

January 15, 1979

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, Members of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals, members of the Council of State and the Cabinet, my fellow North Carolinians.

Tonight we begin anew the relationship that our Constitution provides: not rivals for power, but partners for progress; trustees for the people of our state. As you perform your duties to legislate for the good of our people, I pledge you my fullest cooperation and that of our entire administration.

I am proud of our joint accomplishments in the 1977 and 1978 sessions, and I am deeply grateful for the outstanding leadership of the Advisory Budget Commission as we prepared this budget for North Carolina which I present to you tonight.

North Carolina has made a new beginning.

North Carolina is moving again.

I see it when I dedicate a penicillin plant in Kenly, when I open a new highway in Macon County, when I visit a Primary Reading Program in Guilford County.

We are the fastest-growing state in the fastest-growing region of the country.

We are enjoying an economic boom unprecedented in our history.

In the last two years, we have doubled our new industrial investment. Last year, we went over the $2 billion mark for the first time in our history. For the two years combined, it totals $3.4 billion dollars, more than any four previous years combined.

That will mean 53,500 new jobs. Many of them are sophisticated, high-technology jobs that will broaden our industrial base. We are diversifying that base, turning away from its traditional low-wage character. In 1978, only 11 per cent of the new jobs announced were in our traditional industries.

We have one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation, two full points below the national average. Employment is growing faster here than the average in the South, and it is growing faster in the South than any other region.

Let me show you what is happening in our state. (Map).

Keep in mind that few of these new industries are in place yet. Some are being built now; some are being designed. They will open their doors this year, or in 1980, or in 1981. Our people will be working there in the 1980s.

That is what we must look at tonight—the 1980s.

That decade is only one year away. The question we must ask is this:

Are we ready for the 1980s?

Are our people ready to work in those skilled jobs?

Are our cities and towns and rural communities ready for these new industries, the new people they will bring, the new services they will require and the growth pressures they will cause?

Are our schools ready to teach our children what they will need to know in the 1980s?

Are we ready to care for the human needs and hurts that the 1980s will inevitably bring?

Are we ready to provide the services—roads, ports, airports, water, sewer, recreation, parklands—that the 1980s will require?

Are we ready to help our families face whatever the economy of the 1980s will bring?

We have been getting ready in the last two years.

I am proud that our Primary Reading Program is under way and that last year, for the first time, our first and second graders scored at or above the national average in reading and math.

I am proud that our testing program in grades one, two, three, six, nine and eleven has begun and that for the first time ever we know which students need more help and which skills they lack.

I am proud of our legal and moral commitment to the equal education of our exceptional children, including the gifted and talented. Our community schools program, our new Governor's School and our North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics are successfully established.

I am especially proud that our people are viewing the schools as their schools again and volunteering to help them in record numbers.

In addition to our industrial growth in the past two years, agriculture has rebounded from its problems in 1977. Our estimated farm income is up 22 per cent; cash receipts from livestock are up 12 per cent and income from tobacco is up 27 per cent—topping $1 billion for the first time.

With the help of the $300 million bond issue voted by the people, we are building an excellent East-West transportation system.

We have made the most sweeping reform of our public utility regulation of any state in America. While electric rate increases were more than double the rate of inflation between 1970 and 1977, we have cut them to no more than the rate of inflation.

Most important, we have done all of this without raising taxes!

We have made a new beginning, but we have only begun.

North Carolina can take great pride in its progress—not just in the last two years, but in the decades before. This General Assembly can take great pride in that, especially you who are veteran members. You provided for that progress. Chairman Eddie Knox remarked, after the Advisory Budget Commission toured our state examing what we have done with the people's money, that North Carolina has achieved so much for a historically poor state.

But we still have so much to do.

Too many adults work in jobs that pay too little money and promise too little future.

Too many babies die soon after birth or are stunted or handicapped before they are born.

Too many unwed teenage girls give birth without having seen a doctor or knowing what to eat or how to stay healthy or how to care for their babies.

Too many young children are warped and twisted and lost in the first few years of their lives—starved of nutrition, stimulation, education and affection.

Too many children—and adults—don't learn to read and write and add and subtract and multiply and divide.

Too many young people can't find a good job.

Too many families and working couples see their dreams for a home and future eaten away by inflation.

Too many senior citizens face retirement barely able to pay for food, shelter, medicine and health care. Too many are left alone in institutions—cut off from family, friends and home.

We cannot let our people down. We cannot stand still. We must go forward. We must not fall behind in the race for our future.

North Carolina stands on the edge of the 1980s, bursting with hope and promise.

As Governor and as a General Assembly, we share the responsibility for meeting that tomorrow.

The budget I am presenting to you begins with the recognition that we are called to act at a time when our people are hard-pressed by inflation and taxes, as well as a time of great needs.

It is your responsibility in this legislature to strike a balance that history will record as good for our people.

We must be both frugal and compassionate. We must govern with our heads as well as our hearts.

Inflation is an enemy whose hurts we must try to cure and whose advance we must turn back.

To understand its effect, I ask you to think of a head of a household in your home community earning $15,000 per year who last year got an 8 per cent increase in salary, about the rate of inflation. Because his salary increase threw him into a higher tax brackets, this typical individual will receive 1.6 per cent less in after-tax income this year to support his family and pay his bills.

In making your decision on taxes, I urge you to think very carefully about that taxpayer and about the following principles.

First, we must not cripple the essential services that our state government provides to its citizens, services necessary for a good quality of life and future economic development. Caution is in order.

Second, we should return to the taxpayer, especially in a time of high inflation, the portion of his tax money not needed for essential services. Just because government collected it is no reason to spend it.

Third, we should be cautious and responsible in providing tax relief. We do not know now what will happen this year to our economy and our tax revenues. It would be contrary to our state's tradition of fiscal prodence to cut taxes so much that the next legislature would be forced to impose new taxes or to tie the hands of North Carolina in our race with 49 other states for economic programs and better opportunities for our people.

Fourth, we should provide tax relief that is fair and consistent with the further progress of our state.

I recommend to you a plan that I believe meets all these criteria. It would result in a total package of tax relief to our people of over $105 million in 1979-80.

The most important part of the plan consists of two long-overdue changes. One would provide permanent tax reductions for families raising children by increasing the personal exemption of dependents from $600 each to $1,000. The other would provide to our citizens aged 55 or over an income tax exemption for the money they realize from the sale of their principal residence, up to $100,000.

These changes can be made without hurting essential services. The reduction in revenue from them, about $40 million a year, has already been taken into account in the budget I submit to you.

I suspect it was a belief that families need all the support they can get in the critical but costly job of raising children that motivated Governor Moore and the General Assembly of 1967 to raise the dependent exemption from $300 to $600 per person. Now, 12 years after costs of housing, clothing and schooling children have increased so much, I urge you to raise it to $1,000.

Under the present law, a family with two children and an annual income of $6,000 is required to pay approximately $91 in North Carolina income tax. Under my recommendation, this taxpayer will save $37, a reduction of 41 per cent in his income tax bill. The same size family with an income of $10,000 a year now pays $258 in income tax, whereas under the recommended plan it will pay $215, or a reduction of 17 per cent.

A taxpayer with two children earning $15,000 (the middle-income taxpayer who is also so hard-pressed) would pay $571 under the existing plan and $515 under the recommended plan, a reduction of $56 or 10 per cent. Thus, you can see that the largest percentage benefit would go to the small taxpayer. Many small taxpayers would become totally exempt from paying any state income tax.

I further propose that, because we cannot safely predict economic conditions for the coming year and in light of the predicted downturn in the economy, we provide a tax rebate on 1979 income taxes to all taxpayers if tax revenues turn out to exceed our estimates.

A total rebate up to $65 million would be provided if tax revenues in the 1979-80 fiscal year exceed $2.550 billion. This maximum available to a taxpayer would be $25 and the minimum amount $10.

Some people do not understand that. They say government, not the taxpayers, should spend it. But they don't understand that government doesn't have any right to that money. It belongs to the taxpayers. In times like this, they should get it back—no matter how much—so long as there is enough to pay for the stamp and envelope.

As your Governor, I also ask that all of us in North Carolina do our part in the nation's fight against inflation.

We as a state must hold down the cost of government. I present to you an austere budget. It would increase the number of state jobs, including education, by only 2.2 per cent the first year and 0.94 per cent the second year. Those are the smallest biennial and annual increases since 1966, the earliest year for which we have comparable data. The average annual increase over the 1972-73 through 1976-77 period was 4.8 per cent per year. The vast majority of the new positions this year will be teachers and other public school employees.

We are saving money in other ways. For the first time, we have a central point, our Budget Office, screening all requests for federal funds—requests that have often led to more state spending. Following our reduction in state personnel through executive decisions by 2.3 percent, or over 800 positions, in 1977, we now have a Productivity Commission and Resource Management system working to make state government deliver more for every dollar. We provide cash rewards for employees who come up with money-saving ideas.

One Department of Transportation employee has already received $1,000 for an idea that will save our taxpayers a half-million dollars a year in road construction.

We can aid the consumer in the fight against inflation by the rigorous action of our regulatory agencies. Regulatory boards should have a majority of members without ties to the industry being regulated. I urge this legislature to change every law on our books necessary to insure this fairness and to give careful attention to the recommendations of the Sunset Commission regarding licensing boards.

Next month, we will hold the nation's first statewide conference on fighting inflation. We will make it plain that the state will do business only with companies that certify they are complying with the President's inflation guidelines.

Just as federal government employees and private sector employees in North Carolina will have their wage and salary increases limited by the seven per cent inflation guidelines next year, our proposed state budget complies with the guidelines and includes a salary and fringe benefit reserve for the full seven per cent amount for our teachers and state employees.

I recommend to you that two per cent of the total go for merit steps and other increments, and I urge you to carefully consider whether the remainder should be paid as an across-the-board increase or on a graduated basis.

North Carolinians recognize that the federal budget deficit contributes significantly to inflation. I support a call for a national constitutional convention to require a balanced federal budget, except in terms of emergency. I recognize that there is some risk in such a step. But the 50 states of this nation, living under balanced budgets requiring tough tax and spending decisions each year, have waited patiently for the federal government to get its fiscal house in order.

We have waited in vain.

It is appropriate now that we support the efforts of the President to get the budget balanced. We should serve notice on the Congress and the federal bureaucracy that if they do not balance our national budget voluntarily, we the people of America will require it constitutionally.

These things—necessary tax relief, efficient government and our efforts to fight inflation—will naturally occupy much of your time in this 1979 session. But North Carolina did not get to be the leading state in our region by being preoccupied with such matters.

We achieved our place by the attention that great legislators, governors and our citizens together have paid to the full development of our people over the years.

In late 1977, over 100,000 North Carolinians told us in the "North Carolina Tomorrow" survey what they wanted this state to be like. In hearings throughout the state in 1978, they helped shape policies to achieve their goals.

They said they wanted more good-paying jobs in their communities, and tonight I ask you to help us get them.

They said they wanted a better chance in life for their children, and tonight I will urge improved child development, education and health care.

They said they wanted good, safe, liveable communities in a clean environment, close to their jobs, and tonight I ask a commitment to state policies to encourage that.

They said they wanted better and more efficient government with a place for an individual, and tonight we have focused on that.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

The challenge to me in proposing and to you in considering our course is to develop an investment strategy for North Carolina, a state with limited means, but unlimited people. It should be a strategy that will most quickly lead us to a far higher per capita income, that will preserve our beautiful natural resources—that will, in short, give us the highest return on every dollar of the taxpayers' that we use.

Part of a wise investment strategy would obviously call for improvements in fighting crime and in our criminal justice system. I wish to discuss that with you personally in a separate message in two weeks.

Essential in an investment strategy for North Carolina is the concept of people involvement as volunteers, the use of private resources, not just tax money and public employees. Under the capable direction of Dr. Charles Petty, our Governor's Office of Citizen Affairs is working with communities all over our state to maximize these donated services. The present outpouring of help to our high school students after the competency tests is evidence that we are succeeding. Our goal is to have an active center promoting volunteerism in every county in the state.

Most basic in our investment strategy for North Carolina must be the full development of our people.

We have talked about doing that throughout our history. Governor Charles Brantley Aycock called upon us to provide the opportunity for every child "to burgeon out all that there is within him." That was in 1901.

Yet, change has come slowly. In his message to the General Assembly in 1957, Governor Luther Hodges cited North Carolina's rank of 44th among the then-48 states in per capita income. Today, our per capita income is 40th among the 50 states.

I believe we have failed to move more quickly because we have directed help to our people too late in life.

A child born of a mother who had a poor diet and no medical care during pregnancy has a far greater chance of dying at birth or being born handicapped.

A child living in poverty who never sees a doctor from the time of birth until he is immunized before entering school has a far greater chance of being physically or mentally retarded.

A child living in a home with no books and no parent with education has a far greater chance of being vacant in thought with no motivation and a wasted mind.

By the time we get these children in our public kindergartens, it is too late. The critical time for love, nourishment and stimulation has passed. Age four, by which time 50 per cent of the IQ is supposed to be developed, has gone by. More important, motivation is lacking; the wrong attitudes and values have been fixed for life.

They grow up handicapped. They can't fully use the schools we have built, the programs we have developed. They drop out of school or fail to learn enough to graduate. They can't keep a job. They go on unemployment or welfare, and they may wind up in the courts or in prison.

They lead unhappy, wasted lives, and the taxpayers pay the bills. Then they may have children, and the cycle begins all over again.

We must stop this cycle.

The most rewarding investment we can make with public funds today is our our youngest children. Over time it will mean billions of dollars more each year in production, wages, profits and public revenues.

I propose that we take a bold new stop by committing ourselves to raise up a new generation in North Carolina.

This will be the final link in our human investment, followed by our kindergartens, our public schools, our community colleges and our universities.

I shall propose to you a Children and Family Policy Act to focus attention on helping the family raise children successfully. It will provide a new means for coordinating the many agencies and programs already in place that can help reduce infant mortality, expand and improve child care services and improve basic skills achievement. It will not require any new personnel or appropriations.

I propose new expenditures for raising a new generation that will:

—Develop 15 new prenatal clinics and provide better care for high-risk expectant mothers;

—Expand high-risk infant identification and tracking;

—Expand the Crippled Children's Program, which now covers conditions such as breathing problems, to over 25,000 children;

—Provide for the first time day care assistance for 2,900 children in 1979-80 and 6,250 children in 1980-81.

Many of the children that we must raise to be part of a new generation are poor and receive AFDC payments. I ask you to raise these payments, which have been froxen since 1974, by 5 per cent.

The Primary Reading Program, which I urge you to extend to the one-half of our children not now in it, is also a vital part of raising a new generation.

But all of these efforts affect children who will not finish high school until near the beginning of the 21st century. Only then will the impact of the new generation be fully felt.

The plants we are talking about tonight must employ our people very soon. What are we doing to prepare the students who will hold those jobs?

Our educators are working hard to do that now, from Dr. Bruton, chairman of our State Board of Education, and Dr. Phillips, our State superintendent, through every school and classroom.

I ask tonight that every citizen in North Carolina give them the strongest support.

The budget I propose to you meets some pressing needs in our schools. It will:

—Fully phase in the Exceptional Children program in the schools, bringing the total of state money in it to over $100 million per year;

—Reduce student/teacher contacts in the junior high schools, grades seven, eight and nine, to 150 per day;

—Expand remedial education to meet the needs in students in grades seven through twelve who fail or appear to need help for the competency tests by $14.4 million;

—Add vocational education positions to reduce the student/teacher ratio and improve instruction;

—Expand the Community Schools program to include every school district in the state;

—Provide $6.3 million over the biennium for additional instructional supplies and materials;

—Add 71 more school psychologists;

—Raise substitute teachers' pay to $30 per day; and —Establish a Principals Institute to provide professional leadership and management training for public school principals.

Provision for greater excellence in the education of our most talented young people will be reflected in the exceptional children's budget for gifted and talented, funds for the second Governor's School at Laurinburg and the beginning operations of the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics.

In higher education, it provides $6.3 million to begin a major change in the funding formula for community colleges.

This budget would also continue our state's proud tradition of support for its excellent University of North Carolina system under the leadership of Dr. Bill Friday. The total UNC budget would increase by $93 million over the biennium.

This state has also made a commitment to a strong system of private colleges. To maintain that commitment, I propose that we increase the amount of legislative grants to North Carolina students in private colleges by $75 per student in the first year and another $75 in the second.

While young people should receive our special attention, we must maintain other vitally important commitments.

The single largest increase in this budget is in the cost of Medicaid. This will require spending an additional $18.8 million in state tax money the first year and $31.8 million the second. The increase is mandated by the federal government.

Medicaid costs are increasing more rapidly than other costs because of the high rate of inflation in the health care industry. This dramatizes why effective action must be taken to hold down increases in health costs.

These costs are particularly burdensome to our senior citizens. They contribute to pressures that, too often, force the elderly to give up their own homes and independence. Let us resolve to help them resist those pressures.

To that end, I propose spending an additional $12 million over the biennium to provide services that will help them stay home. Too often, senior North Carolinians have to enter a rest home or nursing home because they can't do one or two simple things—such as cook their meals or clean up the house or give themselves a shot. We can pay people to go into their homes and do these things for them—called the "chore services" program. We can also pay for health aides who can visit them at home.

I will urge your favorable consideration of a Policy Act for the Aging that makes stronger our continuing commitment to our older citizens.

We should likewise emphasize providing mental health services in the community, not just in hospitals. So I recommend that we spend an additional $2.5 million each year to help area mental health programs. This money will be available for meaningful alcoholism programs.

Finally, to reach our full potential, we must be sure that all our people have an equal right to all they can be. This year, we should ratify the Equal Rights Amendment to the United States Constitution.

BALANCED ECONOMIC GROWTH

In the same way that we prepare our people for the 1980s, we must prepare our communities.

North Carolina will become the 10th most populous state in the nation in the 1980s. But our population is dispersed across the state. Our cities, towns and rural communities are clean, liveable and well-managed. We must keep them that way while digesting the growth of the 1980s. Their very attractiveness is one reason we are bringing in good jobs.

We want balance, not malignant, growth. To that end, I will propose a Balanced Growth Policy Act that will establish a partnership in which state, city and county governments can work together to bring in good jobs, provide public services and protect our environment and way of life.

I will also propose that we enact a statewide law encouraging local land-use planning. The planning must be done at the local level by local people, especially Soil and Water Conservation Supervisors. It must protect our farmland, our forests, our waterways and our neighborhoods. It must protect our future.

We must take steps to strengthen our ability to attract good jobs.

I am asking that we spend an additional $800,000 each year of the biennium for travel and tourism, including buying more ads in national publications—such as the beautiful two-page New River ad in the middle of the New York Times Magazine Sunday a week ago.

Our economy, of course, rides on our transportation system—highways, ports, airports and public transportation. Soon I will appoint a blue-ribbon study commission to study future needs for our entire state transportation system, including the question of financing highway construction.

In the last two years, we have made tremendous progress in improving our ports. In recent weeks, new companies have announced their plans to ship out of both our Morehead City and Wilmington ports. I recommend that, over the next two years, we spend $7.5 million to improve our ports.

We should also put seed money into two industries that have enormous potential—seafood and forestry.

I propose that we provide more people who can help owners of small woodlots get more production and profit from their lots. I also propose that we spend $1 million to develop the Wanchese Harbor Seafood Park.

We should also invest $300,000 each year to buy land and build facilities at the Western Farmers Market in Asheville.

Our education system also has an important role to play in economic development.

This legislature should continue to develop the school of veterinary medicine at North Carolina State University. Our livestock industry badly needs more vets, and we cannot get them from anywhere else. This school will also be a tremendous boost for economic development, particularly the toxicology and other environment-related industries now nationally recognized in our Research Triangle.

At a recent meeting of the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, it was announced that there is a projected unmet need of approximately 1,500 toxicologists, 800 environmental pathologists and another 500 environmental specialists over the next five years. A significant fraction of these should have training in veterinary medicine.

Our community colleges must do a far better job of teaching our people the skills they will need to hold the good jobs of the 1980s. This budget provides more money for that purpose.

North Carolina's cultural resources also help make our communities attractive. For that reason, I recommend increased support for the new art museum, local arts programs, our State Symphony, our public libraries and local historical associations.

But how do all these things come together, where it really matters—in the communities where you live? In my home of Rock Ridge, in Charlotte, in Clay County, in Pembroke, in Elizabeth City—wherever you live.

How do we make a difference in the lives of the people who live there?

I say to this General Assembly and to every person in North Carolina, just as I did two years ago, that it is just as much your responsibility as it is mine. Will you help teach a child to read? Will you help steer a young man away from a life of crime? Will you visit an elderly couple once or twice a week?

I think the question before North Carolina is: Are we doing as much as we can do?

We are going forward. This is a great state, but we can make it greater.

I am confident that this legislature will pass a program for progress.

But I say to our people that only you can decide what you want this state to be. Only you can decide what you want to do with the future.

I have laid out for you an agenda that is limited in cost, but unlimited in ambition and hope.

I have talked to you not so much of details, but of directions.

North Carolina is special. North Carolina is working. North Carolina can develop a generation of people and a quality of life unmatched in the nation. This is an exciting time to be alive and to be in North Carolina.

Now, we must generate vision and energy for our future.

I believe we are ready.

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON CRIME TO THE NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN JOINT SESSION BY GOVERNOR JAMES B. HUNT, JR.

January 29, 1979

Two years ago, I came before the General Assembly as the first Governor in our history to deliver a special message on crime.

Tonight, I report to you on the status of our "new beginning" in the fight against crime, and urge that we arm our campaign with better weapons and sounder tactics.

We have made progress in the past two years, but too many of our citizens are still being assaulted, raped, murdered and burglarized. Too many families are torn by violence.

The people of North Carolina expect us to take stronger, more effective steps, and I intend to work with you and do all within my power to protect them.

I believe we have the potential for safer communities in North Carolina than in any state in our nation, and I want us to be satisfied with nothing less. And I believe that if we cannot be successful in reducing crime, that we will have failed in that most essential function of civilized society: providing basic protection for the lives and property of its members.

Two weeks ago, I proposed to you a program to get North Carolina ready for the 1980s. Controlling crime is an important part of that agenda for tomorrow.

With us in the galleries tonight are law enforcement officers from all across our state—sheriffs, chiefs of police, sheriff's deputies, line policemen. They are the front line in our fight against crime—the men and women who bear the greatest responsibility and the greatest personal risk. I pay tribute to them tonight and urge that we—all North Carolinians—give them our strongest possible support.

But we have learned that controlling crime is too big a job for law enforcement officers alone. The causes and consequences of crime cut too deeply in our society.

We who govern must understand all the parts of an effective crime-reduction effort and put our resources where they will provide us the greatest returns in reduced crime.

And let there be no question about the primary aim of our administration. It is not just maximizing civil liberties—though we must insist on constitutional rights. It is not just building decent jails and prisons—though we must have good facilities and programs. Our aim, simply and firmly, is reducing crime in North Carolina, period!

Tonight I want us to address a comprehensive system to reduce crime. It starts with the earliest experiences of children and how they are shaped and molded. It continues with support and safety of families in their homes. It involves juvenile justice, law enforcement, the courts and corrections. Central to all of it is citizen involvement.

I believe that North Carolina stands today unique in the nation in our building of a comprehensive system to attack crime.

North Carolina is unique, too, in the way we have involved our people. Last year, Judge Phil Carlton, who was then Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety, held 37 public hearings, at least one in every judicial district of this state, to give people a chance to talk about crime, to tell us what bothers them, to share with us any ideas and suggestions they had. They did tell us—several thousand people attended those hearings—and what they said will be reflected in my proposals tonight. Our Juvenile Code Revision Committee held 15 public hearings, as well as meeting with interested citizens all across the state, and what it heard will also be reflected in my proposals. Those two public studies, The Crime Control Agenda and the Juvenile Code Revision Committee's report, are the foundations for this second Special Message on Crime.

First, let me review for you the important steps that the historic 1977 General Assembly took:

—A speedy trials law was enacted. A suspect must be tried now within 120 days after indictment; in 1980 it goes down to 90 days.

—We have stiffer sentences for serious crimes. A seven-year jail term, without any chance for parole, is now mandatory for armed robbery.

—The death penalty was restored as a deterrent to premeditated murder.

—Prisoners were put back to work on the roads.

—Our judges were given a stronger sentencing tool called restitution. They can now order a criminal to pay a victim's losses as a condition of a suspended sentence, parole and work release.

—Eleven new Superior Court Judges and three new Court of Appeals Judges were added.

—Money was provided for building new prisons and reducing overcrowding. Under Secretary Amos Reed, North Carolina has made great progress in making the prisons effective parts of our criminal justice system.

—State government, for the first time, established a department responsible for our total planning and coordinating efforts to control crime—the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety. And we have the Governor's Crime Commission—composed of judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys, law officers and citizens—to give it policy guidance.

All of this—combined with the two reports that have been prepared since 1977—have prepared us for renewed action in the 1979 General Assembly.

In the long run, I believe that the most effective action we can take against crime is the program I laid out for you in my State of the State address. The best way to control crime is to raise a new generation of people who are whole, health and educated—ready to be contributing members of society.

A child is bent to crime early in life just as the twig is bent. Many of the men and women in prison today were born in broken, unhappy families, where violence and abuse were as much a part of their daily lives as love and affection are for our children. Many of them had their values and attitudes poisoned early in life. Many of them went uneducated and untrained.

If we're really serious about reducing crime, we must prevent it early. We must reach out to our children, even before they are born—by getting their mothers to a doctor, by teaching them good health habits and good nutrition, by screening babies at birth for potential problems, by providing good child day care opportunities in the early years. If our children are healthy, can read and write, and have been taught moral values, they will be ready to go into the world, as a part of society, not as its enemies.

That is the best way to prevent crime.

Thus, the programs I have recommended to you for raising up a new generation are our first step in the enlarged campaign to reduce crime.

But we know that we have to do more. We know that, despite our best efforts, many adults and juveniles still will end up in trouble with the law.

The one problem brought up more than any other at our crime control hearings last year was "family violence."

This has long been a hidden problem. But we can hide from it no longer.

One out of every four murders in our state in 1976 occurred between members of the same family. Of all North Carolina law officers assaulted that same year, almost one in four was assaulted answering a domestic disturbance call.

Even more serious, violence begets violence. Abused children become child abusers. Studies of prostitutes, homicidal adolescents and convicted murderers find that the majority were themselves victims of family violence.

The time has come when, as a decent and humane people, we must provide more protection for the abused child and the battered spouse. That action can be a hallmark of this General Assembly. It will require much of our law enforcement officers, but I believe we are morally required to do it.

I propose that we create a new crime of trespass that will protect the abused spouse from violence in the home;

I propose that we give law officers the clear authority to protect these victims, and that we provide more protection for law officers who do so;

I propose that we give new authority to magistrates to hold violent spouses longer than present bail bonds permit;

I propose that we put more teeth in enforcement of contempt of court violations in these situations;

I propose that we create victim advocate programs to offer assistance to victims of family violence; and

I propose that we establish a Task Force on Family Violence to study further action and to report to the 1981 General Assembly.

I urge you to adopt the Juvenile Code Revision Committee's proposals to protect abused and neglected children. Child abuse and neglect are among the most heinous crimes in our society. It is time we took strong action against them.

Young people are not only victims of crime. Some of them—too many—become young criminals themselves. Young people under 16 accounted for 10 per cent of all criminal arrests in North Carolina in 1975; they were involved in almost 24 per cent of all arrests for burglary and felonious breaking and entering.

Our outstanding Juvenile Code Revision Committee has sought to strike a difficult balance between protecting society from juvenile criminals and providing effective programs that will prevent young people from turning to a life of crime.

We should follow the committee's overall blueprint for action. Let me highlight some specific proposals that I particularly support:

—Parents should be held more accountable for the actions of their children, including their attendance at school.

—We should allow the fingerprinting and photographing of serious juvenile offenders.

—We should have a more effective juvenile record-keeping system.

—We should encourage stiffer sentences for the most serious juvenile offenders.

—Young people who are accused of serious felonies should be tried in criminal court, just like adults.

—Schools should take stronger action to curb truancy and should provide more alternative programs for disruptive students.

—Special rehabilitation programs should be provided for status offenders, who have committed offenses such as truancy and running away. When the needs of all 100 counties are clear, the state has the responsibility of providing its share of the funds for community alternative programs.

I strongly endorse the committee's recommendation that our juvenile justice efforts should be consolidated into a single state government agency.

The committee recommended that it be located within the Judicial Department.

Since the report was presented to me, I have been informed of the Supreme Court's opinion that such a single agency should be within the Executive Department.

I am therefore tonight asking that the Juvenile Code Revision Committee give further study to this matter and report its recommendation back to me and the General Assembly within a very few weeks. I pledge to this General Assembly and our people that I will do all that I can by means of executive decisions on organization, budget and personnel to give a single agency for juvenile justice the visibility and strong voice that it needs.

The Crime Control Agenda provides us with the same kind of blueprint for action in dealing with adult crime. Again, I could not begin to cover all the recommendations in this excellent, massive report. I support the great majority of them, but I disagree with a few.

The report urges that we restore respect for our laws, our law enforcement officers and our entire system of criminal justice.

The North Carolina Supreme Court in a recent case said: "The necessity for adequate protection of life and property of the individual has never been so real and demanding as in this era, when disrespect for the law and those who enforce it has become rampant."

I believe that restoring respect depends in part upon our court system.

The courts of this state belong to the people—not the lawyers or the judges—and they should be held to standards of fairness and productivity just like every other public and private enterprise.

I am proud of many outstanding judges in the courts of North Carolina. They are among the best in our nation, and they build faith in our criminal justice system among all who come to their courts. Some others do not.

At the crime hearings throughout the state, in court-watcher reports and by other means, our citizens have voiced these concerns about some of our courts:

—That continuances are granted as a matter of course contrary to the Speedy Trials Act;

—That defendants are allowed to delay trial by putting off getting a lawyer;

—That courts too often begin late and take long recesses, while defendants, lawyers and witnesses sit and wait;

—That judges don't take into account the convenience of witnesses in setting cases and conducting court;

—That judges don't explain certain things in court proceedings that may be completely proper but that appear suspicious to laymen;

—That too many defendants with records a yard long in shoplifting or worthless check cases continue to get put on probation;

—That trial judges are not using restitution fully, especially in crimes of violence when victims most need help; and —That sentencing is done without inquiring into previous convictions.

As much as I would urge attention to any problem I discuss tonight, I urge the trial judges of this state to address these concerns, and emulate the best of our trial judges who are deemed by all around them to be fair, efficient and considerate.

Disrespect for our courts results also from the lack of fairness and certainty in our criminal sentencing. In my message two years ago, I called North Carolina's system of sentencing a public lottery. I believe that even more strongly today. Neither lawbreakers nor law-abiders can respect a system that gives one man 20 years for manslaughter and another man six months in similar circumstances.

Our system was based on the theory that sentencing is primarily for the purpose of rehabilitation. Thus the judges should be given the widest possible discretion and, when rehabilitation is complete, the prisoner should be set free.

In North Carolina, and throughout the nation, those theories have not proved out in practice.

It is time that we face up to the fact that the sentencing of criminal defendants is primarily for one purpose: punishment. And we should make it as fair as we possibly can.

You will soon receive proposed legislation from a North Carolina Bar Association committee that has studied this issue at my request and developed a bill that I strongly support.

It is not a "fixed sentencing" bill. It is a bill that will have the Legislature carry out its proper function of making laws by establishing a "presumed" sentence for different categories of crimes. The judge could increase or decrease the sentence only for good reasons such as age, prior record, etc., and all reasons relied upon would have to be set out in writing.

This clean, simple approach will help the public understand why a certain offender received a certain sentence. It will restore public faith and confidence in criminal sentences.

The legislation would also abolish the parole system for felonies as we know it. If our system of sentencing is a lottery, our system of paroling prisoners is a guessing game. The judge is guessing when an offender will be paroled, so he will know how long a sentence to give. The inmate is guessing how he can manipulate the system to get a parole. The public has little understanding, and less faith.

This confusing system would be replaced with a plan under which each inmate would get one day off his or her sentence for every day of good behavior. This would be clear, fair and understandable to everybody concerned.

The two most effective deterrents to crime are swift and sure punishment. The "fair sentencing bill," added to the "speedy trials bill," will give us both in our arsenal.

I believe one of the best ways to increase public confidence in our courts is to adopt a system of merit selection for judges, to assure that they have the ability and firmness to make the criminal courts effective in reducing crime. I have already instituted a form of this system in my own judicial appointments by executive order, and it has worked well. I urge you to enact a merit selection system into law.

I strongly urge our judges to make better use of another sentencing tool—restitution. Criminals should have to pay for their victims' losses and damages. And if judges do not use this tool voluntarily, you, the Legislature, may need to make it mandatory.

But we should change the priority of payment in law so that the victim—not the court and not the state—gets first priority for receiving restitution money.

I hope you will give serious consideration to a proposal by the Attorney General to compensate innocent victims of violent crime with public funds as money becomes available.

While we have been free of it in the past, we must become alert to the potential involvement of organized crime in our state. To guard against it, we should:

—Establish an Organized Crime Committee in the Governor's Crime Commission;

—Clarify and strengthen our laws against gambling;

—Make jail term mandatory for a second conviction for prostitution;

—Crack down harder on drug pushers; and continue our efforts to curb cigarette smuggling.

I will ask this General Assembly to take stronger and more effective action against drunk drivers on our highways. I believe we should require people who are convicted of a first offense of driving under the influence to take a specially designed course, which has been successful in South Carolina and elsewhere in reducing drunk driving. For the second and subsequent offenses we should make a jail term mandatory.

The Crime Control Agenda offers more than a dozen recommendations on traffic safety that I support, such as giving the driver who fails to appear in court four points on his license.

Some actions discussed in the Crime Control Agenda I oppose. I do not favor re-enactment of the Outlaw Statute. There is too much chance of innocent people being killed, and we can usually amass enough law officers to bring in fugitives.

I strongly favor the continued election of the County Sheriffs in North Carolina and the continuation of their traditional law enforcement duties. I favor a crackdown on those who write worthless checks, but under a plan favored by the District Attorneys, whereby opportunity is given to pay it off before there is a presumption of fraud.

I will also ask this General Assembly to give greater support to our law enforcement officers.

—We should provide additional professional training, including the small police and sheriff's offices.

—In 1977, we increased the minimum salary for law officers to $7,600 a year. This year, we should increase it to $8,400, if funds are available. This recommendation came too late to be included in my budget recommendations to you.

—We should provide all-risk liability insurance protection to these dedicated men and women under a plan worked up by the Law Enforcement Officers Liability Study Commission. I recommend this, too, for inclusion in the budget.

Our law officers, like many of our citizens, are concerned about the operation of the courts.

I urge the establishment of Trial Court Administrators in 10 judicial districts, to manage the court calendar and to insure efficiency and fairness. This is in the budget.

We are losing too many outstanding young prosecutors to private practice, just when we get them trained to prosecute criminals well.

I urge you to enact a Career Assistant District Attorney plan to pay them better and make public service their career.

Our district attorneys' offices need to be able to concentrate prosecutors and investigators on repeat offenders and career criminals. Pilot projects in three counties are getting those criminals off the street faster and for longer periods of time. In the budget, I recommend you continue them.

We need other changes in our laws.

—We should give stiffer sentences for shoplifting.

—We should provide a minimum two-year sentence for a second breaking and entering conviction.

—The crime of burglary should apply to the daytime hours, as well as at night.

—We should make the involuntary commitment of the mentally ill, when they may be dangerous to themselves or to others, less difficult.

—Criminals who deliberately and illegally dump dangerous or toxic chemicals in our state should get harsh fines and should serve time in jail. And they should pay the taxpayers for every penny it costs to clean up.

We must do a better job of planning our crime control efforts and not depend solely on federal funds to do it.

We need a comprehensive criminal justice information system for law officers, corrections and the courts, so we can trace the record of a defendant and sentence him accordingly. We must, at the same time, respect the rights of privacy and freedom of information.

We need a standing body of lawyers, laymen and legislators to constantly monitor the operation of our courts and to propose changes as needed. I propose that we reestablish the North Carolina Courts Commission for this purpose. Its first duties should include studying the possible removal of traffic cases from the courts, ways to reduce backlogs at the trial and appeal court level, and the requirement of grand jury indictment.

But we need immediate action by this Legislature to reduce the backlog in Superior Court and provide more time to try dangerous criminals. Thus, I propose that the District Courts be given jurisdiction in all non-jury criminal matters including post conviction hearings, and probation and parole revocations; and that indicated felons with written consent be permitted to plead guilty and be sentenced in District Court where the maximum sentence does not exceed 10 years.

I pledge to this General Assembly that this administration will continue to work in a partnership with you to make our prison system an effective part of our overall criminal justice system. We have come a long, long way in the last two years. We can be proud of the job we have done.

In 1977, our prisons had 3,000 more inmates than they were designed to handle. We have reduced that figure to 800 inmates, thanks to the Legislature's appropriation of over $50 million for capital construction. This year's budget would allocate another $25 million toward new and better prisons.

Century-old Central Prison is now being torn down to make room for a new maximum security prison safer for prisoners and guards. We actually have 800 fewer prisoners in our system today than one year ago.

In 1977, we had a serious backlog of internal problems in the prisons: poor staff training, poor management, poor maintenance. We have strengthened our programs, our management and our facilities.

With the help of the Department of Human Resources, our prisons are providing needed health and mental health care.

We have separated young female offenders from older, more serious offenders.

More prisoners are at work today—on the roads and in work-release programs.

The reform of our Paroles Commission has improved the handling of cases. The old commission granted 4,759 paroles in 1976; the present commission granted 7,325 last year—an increase of 65 per cent.

Clearly, we are putting our correctional house in order.

Most gratifying, 78 prison units now have citizen advisory committees. More than 4,000 volunteers are working in prison programs.

That citizen involvement of the community is the most important accomplishment of all, in many ways.

Finally, if we are to prevail, the fight against crime must be waged by every citizen of our state, in every home, in every community.

Each of us can prevent crime by organizing a Community Watch program where we live.

Each of us can improve the courts by forming a "court-watcher" group in our county.

Each of us can help youngsters avoid a life of crime by volunteering to be their partner or special friend—giving some of our time and help to them.

The job of fighting crime is our job. The system we build to do it is our system.

But, fundamentally, the issue of crime is a moral issue. If we care enough about each other as human beings, we will commit ourselves to solve it.

It will not be easy. It will not happen quickly. We may have to go against the tide in our self-centered society.

But the approach we are using in North Carolina will work.

As we enter the 1980's, let us resolve that here in our state we shall re-establish respect for the law and all those who enforce it.

Let us live it every day.

Let us impress it on the hearts of our young.

Let us be judged by it in the time to come!

STATEMENT OF REPRESENTATIVE J. HOWARD COBLE REGARDING SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 1

Thursday, January 25, 1979

Mr. Speaker, as provided in Senate Joint Resolution 1 inflation is the most serious problem facing the people of the United States and the primary cause of inflation is unchecked federal spending. It is my belief that the Congress will not check this spending on its own motion. Members of the Congress waltz off to the Potomac to waste, squander and recklessly spend only to return to their home districts and express their grave concern about inflation. These expressions of concern, of course, are followed by subsequent waltzes back to the Potomac where they again waste, squander and recklessly spend. Mr. Speaker, I believe there is no risk involved in passing this resolution. If there is, in fact, risk I believe it is slight and I am willing to assume it. I urge the other members of the House to assume it with me.

ON CHANGING PARTIES

I got the message that a caucus was called
And I really didn't know why
But I abided my time because I knew
That I would find out bye and bye.

Democrats were gathered all over the House
And everywhere you could see
That many others were looking around
And, in the dark just like me.

What are we here for the question was asked
As the Speaker took the stand
Is there some new Republican here
Who has dared to join our band.

Why, yes, the Speaker said
I have an announcement for you today
The Gentlemen from Henderson, Ralph Ledford
Has decided to come our way.

He went to the Elections Board this morning
Accompanied by McMillan and Wright
And with a little encouragement by Rabon
He did what he thought was right.

He changed from the Elephant to the Donkey
A better animal to ride
So the Speaker and other Democrats joined
In welcoming him to our side.

And, when the ceremony was over
You couldn't tell from where Ralph sat
But Liston Ramsey is here to tell you
That he is now a Democrat.

REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE A. NEAL SMITH AT THE CEREMONIAL JOINT LEGISLATIVE SESSION IN THE CAPITOL BUILDING

April 23, 1979

This building, our Capitol, symbolizes the best tendencies in the world of historic preservation today—the revival and reuse of our historic buildings for the purposes for which they were intended. The Capitol, when it was built, was intended to house all of state government—and it did so for 48 years. It still is being used for governmental purposes. For this we can thank Governor James B. Hunt for bringing the Governor's Office back to the Capitol and we can thank Secretary of State Thad Eure who has always been here—at least for the past 42 years, or more. Although the General Assembly left these chambers after the 1961 session, we still come back for occasions such as this one today. The chambers are used regularly for official state government meetings and ceremonies. But while it is important that the Capitol is still being used for official governmental purposes, perhaps it is more significant that the Capitol is a work of art and a symbol of pride for our citizens.

I believe that there is still a greater significance of the Capitol—its potential as an aid for teaching our students and other citizens more about how our state government has developed and more about its present services and functions. When this building was completed, there were only seven or eight full time state employees and the General Assembly met for only about two months every two years. Practically all of the official actions of state government took place here until the Supreme Court, the first element of government to leave the building, moved to other quarters in 1888.

What all of this means to our state's educators is that the Capitol is a magnificent classroom and an authentic source and site for teaching history, civics, political science, public administration, architecture, and all manner of related topics. In short, the Capitol is an educational gold mine and, because of its symbolism, it is a source of inspiration. Surely, we feel right now the very presence of history and statesmanship in these chambers.

In addition to the re-furnishing of the Capitol, the creating of a motion picture about it, and the other current projects of the State Capitol Foundation mentioned by Senator Scott, I am told that there are two grants which are in the process of being obtained from private organizations which probably will make possible the publication of a documentary history and also a guidebook on the capitol. It is astounding to realize that we have never had such educational materials. I salute the Foundation and its donors for undertaking these works.

I also salute past General Assemblies for providing the funds to preserve this fine structure and the funds for the small staff to operate it as a historic site. Much has been done by all concerned: First, our forebears created the building and preserved it until modern times. Secondly, North Carolina statesmen have enriched it and us by their works over the generations. Thirdly, our citizens have taken it to their hearts as a symbol of the goodness of our state. Fourthly, the Foundation and its donors are re-furnishing it and creating education materials about it. Even with all that has been done, much remains to be done if we are to develop the educational potential of the Capitol. There is practically no limit to what can be done to enhance the education of our students and general citizenry—and much of it can be done at a modest cost in tax dollars. The Foundation already is demonstrating this. There are special tours to be developed, lectures and seminars to be given, dramatic events to be staged, reenactments of great debates and other events in these chambers, and on and on we can go.

No one expects to do these kinds of things all at once. But my purpose now is to urge that we remember our Capitol and that we help its educational programs grow as steadily and purposefully as we can.

I introduced House Bill 973, a companion to Senator Scott's bill, to help the Capitol programs in a modest way. If we are able to give a little help along the way, it will enable the Capitol staff to work even more effectively with the Foundation and with potential donors. I hope you agree that we have a responsibility to encourage this work.

I am pleased to have introduced in the House the companion bill to Senator Scott's bill because I know of the importance for legislative support for this worthwhile activity.

Having spoken to the past and the importance of continued financial support from the legislature, I feel it is essential that a moment be given to the recognition of this auspicious occasion and those of us privileged to take part in it. Just as the beauty of the flowers that impress us each Spring and the awareness of the changing colors and patterns of the blossoms, we are impressed with the symbolic renewal of life in Spring's eternal pageant. Our coming together here tonight in this venerable hall is symbolic of a return to our fundamental dedication to the great value of personal liberty that is characteristic of North Carolina. This house has resounded to the speeches of great orators in the past. Tonight, we can only reaffirm our belief in the importance of the past and its effect on the present. Yet, our words will not be without significance. Our members, like Senator Scott, who have served under this honorable roof, and now serve under a newer roof, are symbols of both the past and future. Our State is richer for this building, the Capitol of North Carolina, and its importance in our future must be assured.

REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE RICHARD WRIGHT TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

April 26, 1979

Mr. Speaker, I feel I must share with the full House some reaction to our most enjoyable trip to Columbia, South Carolina, for the basketball game with the South Carolina House.

First, my fellow members, you probably already know that our team won by a score of 47-45. The team members for the South Carolina game were: Bob Davis, Senator from Rowan; David Diamont of Surry, Bob Etheridge of Harnett, Bruce Ethridge of Onslow, Parks Helms of Mecklenburg, Robert Hobgood of Franklin, Ralph Ledford of Henderson, Horace Locklear of Robeson, William McMillan of Iredell, Jim Morgan of Guilford, Van Phillips of Mitchell, Tom Rabon of Brunswick and Frank Redding of Randolph. Speaker Carl Stewart of Gaston served as Coach and Richard Wright of Columbus was General Manager. Robbie Lester, an employee of the Department of Public Instruction, served as Trainer.

Many of our members and friends boarded the two busses and departed for Columbia at 1:45 p.m. on yesterday, April 25, 1979. Those attending included Donna Stewart, Thorn Lewis, Paul Stock, Martha Lowrance, Denise Hoell, Mary Seymour of Guilford, Joseph Johnson of Wake, Donna Sue Hesmer, Richard Barnes of Forsyth, Janice Cone, Mr. and Mrs. Robie Nash of Rowan, Martha Hobgood, Faye Etheridge, Hack Gaylord, H. O. Carter of Stanly, Barbara Cannon, Kathy Wells, Crystal Stevenson, Wilma Woodard of Wake, Terrie Bullard, Peter Roscoe, Martin Lancaster of Wayne, Dr. and Mrs. Ramie Kemp of Davie, Betty Dorton Thomas of Cabarrus, Jim Long, Mr. and Mrs. Don Beard with son and two grandchildren of Cumberland, Margaret Keesee of Guilford, Larry Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Huskins of Iredell, Chris Barker of Craven, Grace Collins, Sylvia Fink, Edward Hedgepeth, and Terre Thomas.

With one break for a quick snack, the trip took four hours. About three miles out of Columbia our two busses were stopped by the South Carolina Highway Patrol. Upon ascertaining that we were indeed the Honorables from the "Old North State," these squad cars provided an escort to the Carolina "McGuire" Coliseum. We were whisked to a reception featuring light refreshments for the road-weary; the athletes, however, marched dutifully to the locker rooms. Many of the hosts were present, having escaped from a long debate on the Appropriations Bill.

Just prior to 7:30 p.m. our group went up to the arena to take our seats behind the Tar Heel bench. Approximately 500 fans filled the huge coliseum with cheers and laughter. I must say that our sixty made more noise than the other 440. Terre Thomas and I attempted to lead the cheers. Wilma Woodard, Grace Collins, and Sylvia Fink provided a bit of disco flair.

Joan Mower of UPI captured the flavor of the game in her morning article. "Despite expanding girths and weak knees, the North Carolina House overcame the South Carolina House's troublesome 'KISS' offense Wednesday night to hang on for a 47-45 basketball victory. 'The North Carolina House was seasoned for the victory by Legislative battles with the Federal Government for the past six months', said House Speaker Carl Stewart, D-Gaston.

'We've been run around by HEW for the last six months and that's shaped us up a lot,' he said.

Stewart was referring to his State's battles with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare over a desegregation plan for the University of North Carolina.

South Carolina attempted to counter North Carolina's 'Mean Machine' with its own using the KISS offense, (keep it simple-stupid).

Despite the narrow loss however, South Carolina House Speaker, Rex L. Carter, D-Greenville, said his team 'played a good game, but the officials just didn't give us the right breaks.'

Carter said the South Carolina House would give them a better game next year in Raleigh.

The players, many of whom had played some basketball in high school and college, tried to keep the ball in play, but the quality sparked one South Carolina Legislative Aide to quip, 'This could very well be the end of the great American sport of basketball.'

Gov. Dick Riley, who attended the game with his wife, said he enjoyed the ball game, but he noted that the South Carolina players 'are hedging—that's apparent.'

The team, Riley said, looked 'well fed' and appeared 'to be selected on the basis of weight and not merit.'

Riley has been trying unsuccessfully so far to get his Merit Selection Plan for the Public Service Commission through the House.

Lt. Gov. Nancy Stevenson and members of the South Carolina Senate, clad in T-shirts with their names on the back, led cheers for the South Carolina ball club. Throughout the game a high school band played rock music.

The North Carolina squad got its cheering help from Rep. Richard Wright, D-Tabor City, who dubbed himself the 'General Manager.' 'We've really been working on our cheers,' Wright said."

Ralph Ledford, recent convert to the Democratic Party, scored the first 2 points of the game and was runner-up for scoring honors. Big Bob Etheridge, with 15 points, led the North Carolina effort. Robbie Lester and David Diamont shared coaching duties until the Speaker, victim of a fog-bound plane, arrived at half-time. I must add that our team led by 10 points at the half-time, and our final scant 2 point victory certainly should not be construed as a commentary on the coaching ability—or lack thereof—of our Speaker.

After the exciting finale of the game, the Sandlapper hosts ushered all of us to a gorgeous reception where we enjoyed a splendid array of food and beverage. We were treated royally and with great hospitality.

With reluctance, our tired but happy group departed for Raleigh about 11:30 p.m. and arrived at 4:00 a.m.

Mr. Speaker, this has been a wonderful experience, and I know I speak for the team and all the others when I say the South Carolinians could not have been warmer.

I suggest that you appoint a committee to plan the match here in Raleigh during June, 1980. We must plan long and hard to match their hospitality.

Mr. Speaker, at this time we would like to send to you the trophy to hold in trust for the North Carolina House and the people of North Carolina. Let's hope we retain it next summer!

Now, finances! Several who were going had to cancel, and we ran short of money to pay the $1,200.00 to Trailways. Several who did not attend came to the rescue with contributions. We owe thanks to Ruth Easterling and Louise Brennan of Mecklenburg, Ron Taylor of Bladen, Charles Holt of Cumberland, Eugene Merritt of New Hanover, Aaron Plyler of Union, Roberts Jernigan of Hertford, Dan Lilley of Lenoir, Jo Graham Foster of Mecklenburg, Billy Clark of Cumberland, Liston Ramsey of Madison, A. D. Guy of Onslow, Gordan Greenwood of Buncombe, Howard Chapin of Beaufort, James Clarke of Buncombe, Richard Grady of Wayne, Marie Colton of Buncombe, Dave Bumgardner of Gaston, John Gamble of Lincoln, Bob McAllister of Rockingham, George Hux of Halifax, Byron Haworth of Guilford, Eugene White of Caldwell, John Jordan of Alamance, Paul Pulley of Durham, Patricia Hunt of Orange, John Varner of Dvidson, Casper Holroyd of Wake, James E. Ezzell of Nash, and his secretary Rose Lucas.

Mr. Speaker, and fellow members, please forgive me for running on and on, but I felt I must share with all of you some details concerning this historic and interesting event.

II. CONDUCT OF DEBATE

RULE 6. Duties and Powers of the Speaker.—The Speaker shall have general direction of the Hall. He may name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but substitution shall not extend beyond one day, except in the case of sickness or by leave of the House.

RULE 7. Obtaining Floor.—(a) When any member desires recognition for any purpose, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker. No member shall proceed until recognized by the Speaker.

(b) When a member desires to interrupt a member having the floor, he shall first obtain recognition by the Speaker and permission of the member occupying the floor, and when such recognition and permission have been obtained, he may propound a question to the member occupying the floor; but he shall not otherwise interrupt the member having the floor, except as provided in subsection (c) of this rule; and the Speaker shall, without the point of order being raised, enforce this rule.

2. a point of order, or

3. a parliamentary inquiry.

RULE 8. Questions of Personal Privilege.—Upon recognition by the Speaker for that purpose, any member may speak to a question of personal privilege for a time not to exceed three (3) minutes. Personal privilege may not be used to explain a vote or debate a bill. RULE 9. Points of Order.—(a) The Speaker shall decide questions of order and may speak to points of order in preference to other members arising from their seats for that purpose. Any member may appeal from the ruling of the chair on questions of order; on such appeal no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the House. A two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present shall be necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Chair.

(b) When the Speaker calls a member to order, the member shall take his seat except that a member called to order may clear a matter of fact, or explain, but shall not proceed in debate so long as the decision stands. If the member appeals from the ruling of the Chair and the decision by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present be in favor of the member called to order, he may proceed; if otherwise, he shall not; and if the case, in the judgment of the House, requires it, he shall be liable to censure by the House.

RULE 10. Limitations on Debate.—No member shall speak more than twice on the main question, nor longer than thirty minutes for the first speech and fifteen minutes for the second speech, unless allowed to do so by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members present; nor shall he speak more than once upon an amendment or motion to reconsider, commit, appeal or postpone, and then not longer than ten minutes. The House may, however, by consent of a majority of the members present, suspend the operation of this rule during any debate on any particular question before the House.

RULE 11. Reading of Papers.—When there is a call for the reading of the text of a paper which has been presented to the House, and there is objection to such reading, the question shall be determined by a majority vote of the members of the House present. RULE 12. General Decorum.—(a) The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum.

(b) Decency of speech shall be observed and disrespect to personalities carefully avoided.

(h) Members shall observe appropriate attire, coat and tie for male members and dignified dress for female members.

III. MOTIONS

RULE 13. Motions Generally.—(a) Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any two members request it.

(b) When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, if written, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Speaker or Clerk before debate.

(c) After a motion has been stated by the Speaker or read by the Speaker or Clerk, it shall be in the possession of the House; but it may be withdrawn before a decision or amendment, except in case of a motion to reconsider, which motion, when made by a member, shall be in possession of the House and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

RULE 14. Motions, Order of Precedence..—When there are motions before the House, the order of precedence is as follows:

To adjourn

To lay on the table

To postpone indefinitely

Previous question

To postpone to a day certain

To commit

To amend an amendment

To amend

To substitute

To pass the bill

No motion to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or to make a particular amendment, being decided, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

RULE 15. Motion to Adjourn.—(a) A motion to adjourn shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House.

(b) A motion to adjourn shall be decided without debate, and shall always be in order, except when the House is voting or some member is speaking; but a motion to adjourn shall not follow a motion to adjourn until debate or some other business of the House has intervened.

RULE 16. Motion to Table.—(a) A motion to table shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House and is in order except when a motion to adjourn is before the House.

(b) A motion to table shall be decided without debate.

(c) A motion to table a bill shall constitute a motion to table the bill and all amendments thereto.

(d) When the question before the House is the adoption of an amendment to a bill or resolution, a motion to table the bill is not in order, and a motion to table an amendment applies to the amendment only, and the motion may not expressly or by implication or construction be expanded to include a motion to table the bill also.

(e) When a question has been tabled, it shall not thereafter be considered except on motion to reconsider under Rule 18, or to remove from the table approved by a two-thirds (2/3) vote.

RULE 17. Motion to Postpone Indefinitely..—A motion to postpone indefinitely is in order except when a motion to adjourn or to lay on the table is before the House. However, after one motion to postpone indefinitely has been decided, another motion to postpone indefinitely shall not be allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not thereafter be considered except on motion to reconsider under Rule 18, or to place on the favorable calendar approved by a two-thirds (2/3) vote.

RULE 18. Motion to Reconsider.—(a) When a question has been decided, it is in order for any member to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same or the succeeding legislative day; provided that if the vote by which the motion was originally decided was taken by a recorded vote, only a member of the majority may move for reconsideration.

(b) A motion to reconsider shall be determined by a majority vote, except a motion to reconsider a vote upon a motion to table, a motion to postpone indefinitely, a motion to remove a bill from the unfavorable calendar, a motion that a bill be read twice on the same day, or a motion to remove from the table, which shall require a two-thirds (2/3) vote.

RULE 19. Previous Question.—(a) The previous question may be called only by the member submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, by the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration, or by the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the Chairman of the committee reporting the same to the House at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the House or taken up for consideration.

(b) The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question now be put?" When the call for the previous question has been decided in the affirmative by a majority vote of the House, the "main question" is on the passage of the bill, resolution or other matter under consideration.

(c) The call for the previous question shall preclude all motions, amendments and debate, except the motion to adjourn or motion to table or motion to postpone indefinitely made prior to the determination of the previous question.

(d) If the previous question is decided in the negative, the main question remains under debate.

IV. VOTING.

RULE 20. Use of Electronic Voting System.—(a) Votes on the following questions shall be taken on the electronic voting system, and the ayes and noes shall be recorded on the Journal:

(1) All questions on which the Constitution of North Carolina requires that the ayes and noes be taken and recorded on the Journal.

(2) All questions on which a call for the ayes and noes under Rule 24(a) has been sustained.

(3) Both second and third readings of bills proposing amendment of the Constitution of North Carolina or ratifying resolutions amending the Constitution of the United States.

(b) Votes on the following questions shall be taken on the electronic voting system, and a copy of the machine printout of the votes shall be filed in the Principal Clerk's office. A copy of the machine printout shall also be filed in the Legislative Library where it shall be open to public inspection:

(1) Second reading of all public bills, all amendments to public bills offered after second reading, third reading if a public bill was amended after second reading or if the reading occurs on a day or days following the second reading, all conference reports on public bills, all motions to lay public bills on the table, and all motions to postpone public bills indefinitely.

(2) Upon a call for division.

(3) Any other question upon direction of the Speaker or upon motion of any member supported by one-fifth (1/5) of the members present.

(c) When the electronic voting system is used, twenty seconds shall be allowed for voting on the question before the House, unless the Chair shall direct otherwise. The system shall be set to close automatically when that time has expired. After the system is closed, the Speaker may allow any member to vote until he orders the system locked. Once the system is locked, the vote shall be recorded and printed.

(d) The voting station at each member's desk in the Chamber shall be used only by the member to which the station is assigned. Under no circumstances shall any other person vote at a member's station. It is a breach of the ethical obligation of a member either to request that another person vote at the requesting member's station, or to vote at another member's station. The Speaker shall enforce this rule without exception.

(e) When the electronic voting system is used, the Speaker shall state the question and shall then state substantially the following: "All in favor vote 'aye'; all opposed vote 'no'; the Clerk will open the vote." After the allotted time for voting has elapased, the Speaker shall say: "The Clerk will now lock the machine and record the vote." After the machine is locked and the vote recorded, the Speaker shall announce the vote and declare the result.

PRAYERS OFFERED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES 1979

by

Dr. Albert G. Edwards House Chaplain

Wednesday, January 10, 1979

O Sovereign God, we thank Thee that Thou hast made and preserved us a worthy and noble State, working with the committed and the courageous, and with the weak and the wayward.

We thank Thee that as the men and women of this House face another legislative session that they can be assured of Thy strengthening Presence, reconciling grace,
all-sufficient wisdom,
and Thy abiding friendship.

Thus may it be that with Thy help they shall keep their honor bright lives clean motives pure and when the work is ended they shall hear from those they represent the highest accolade of all, "Well done, well done."

We pray in God's strong Name, Amen.

Thursday, January 11, 1979

Almighty God, Creator, Preserver
and Bountiful Benefactor of all mankind these men and women come to Thee still knowing the joy and sensing the excitement of a new session's beginning.

Yet many are experiencing already the pressures of telephone calls letters messages office invasions hallway confrontations.

May Thy strenthening Spirit so indwell them that trifles shall not ruffle them, interruptions shall not exasperate or exacting duties shall not make them ill-mannered or inconsiderate.

In Thy Holy Name we pray, Amen.

Friday, January 12, 1979

O Matchless and Almighty God, thankfully we acknowledge that Thou art "beyond the range of sun and star."

In days and circumstances both favorable and adverse help these men and women more and more to know that Thou art

Power that is never knocked out Light that is never blacked out and Love that is never locked-out

In Thy great Name we pray, Amen.

Monday, January 15, 1979

O Triune God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, it may well be that many of the men and women of this House are happy to be back in Raleigh on this Monday evening where they do not have to confront or be confronted by too many of their constituents. But help all of us to remember that every day we must confront ourselves and Thee. It is true that when we confront ourselves we do not always like what we see outwardly, but with Thy help may we be well pleased with what we know is within.

In God's great Name, Amen.

Tuesday, January 16, 1979

O Lord of life and King of love in this day when there is much discussion concerning possible tax rebate, help us to recall for our encouragement Christ's words of promised rebate:

"Give and it will be given to you in good measure, pressed down shaken together running over." (Luke 6:35)

May we always believe that we can never outgive Thee. Amen.

Wednesday, January 17, 1979

O strengthening God, we thank Thee that we can affirm with the Psalmist:

"The Lord is our light and our salvation; whom then shall we fear? The Lord is the strength of our lives; of whom then shall we be afraid?"

As these members of this House concern themselves with issues that involve the land, and resources, and citizens of our State, help them to remember that they are dealing with Thy possessions, because it is written in Thy word, "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein." Amen.

Thursday, January 17, 1979

O God, holy and helpful, wise and wonderful, we acknowledge our proneness to forget Thee in the rush of life when strength and health, wisdom and sight, are sufficient for all demands.

Forgive our unwise indifference to dependence, and help us in days of joyful adequacy to acknowledge Thee so that in days of dark distress and overwhelming difficulty we may turn to Thee without hesitation or embarassment.

In Thy good Name, Amen.

Dear Heavenly Father, as we begin a new week and settle down to our real serious business, we ask for wisdom and guidance for our committee leaders and for our Speaker and his staff. We especially ask for guidance as we serve the citizens of North Carolina here in the North Carolina General Assembly. We ask for special strength for our fellow member, Senator Crawford, during this time of his sickness.

In Thy Name, Amen.

Representative Casper Holroyd, Jr.

Tuesday, January 23, 1979

O faithful, friendly, fatherlike God, we thank Thee that Thy love for us does not depend or hinge upon our love for Thee. We recall with thanks that it is written,

"Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that He first loved us and sent His son to be an atoning sacrifice for our sins."

Because we know that in our unworthiness we are loved by Thee may such knowledge help us to care for those who dinna care for us.

In Thy strong Name, Amen.

Wednesday, January 24,1979

Great God, the source of our salvation and sufficiency, we know that the serenity of this House chamber is not an example of what pervades this entire building. You know, as these men and women know, the battles being waged behind other doors,

the pleas being voiced,
the words being heard,
the persuasion being used,
and the pressure being exerted.

Through it all may Thy presence in each inner being enable each one to behave with charity, think with clarity,

and act with honesty.

In the name that is above all names, Amen.

Thursday, January 25, 1979

Father of mercies and God of all comfort in the midst of our own daily routine we pause to bring to Thee in prayer the family of Senator Crawford. In their turmoil be Thou their peace, in weakness their strength, and in sorrow their solace.

To all of us who live in the land of the dying may such experiences remind us that our times are in Thy hands. Despite Thy mysterious ways may we wish them no place else.

In Christ's strong Name, Amen.

Friday, January 26, 1979

Eternal God, Thou who art here and everywhere, and who will be with the men and women and Pages of this House wherever they journey this day, may these Legislators know at this week's end the joy of leaving behind some achievement and contribution they deem worthwhile.

When they meet this week-end with home folks who may be agreeable or disagreeable help them to listen with interest and to respond with charity.

And may the work of the members of this House be to them so stimulating and enjoyable that when Monday comes they will anticipate with pleasure their return.

In the redeeming name of Jesus, Amen.

Monday, January 29, 1979

Great God, so great in power and all-excelling in love, as these men and women of the House confront the challenges and opportunities of another week, we thank Thee that they can affirm with the Psalmist:

> "We will lift up our eyes unto the hills!
> From whence cometh our help? Our help > cometh from the Lord who made heaven and earth."

And may they know that the God who created and who governs our world is strong enough to keep them from the danger of hasty words, unworthy thoughts,

uncontrollable temper,
and selfish deeds.

In Thy strong Name we pray, Amen.

Tuesday, January 30, 1979

Forbid, O God, that our daily prayer should become a concession to cold custom or a mere sprinkling of religious sentiment. Rather, may we come with the fervor of the Psalmist who declared:

"This poor man cried and the Lord heard him and delivered him from all his trouble."

And so coming, may the men and women of this House then be able to echo the Psalmist's words when he also declared:

"O taste and see that the Lord is good. Blessed is the man that trusteth in Him." Amen.

Wednesday, January 31, 1979

Great God, we do not come to Thee in prayer because we believe that thereby we can twist Your arm, or change Your mind, or persuade Thee to do for us what we are unwilling to do for ourselves.

But we do come in prayer because we believe in our hearts what oftimes we sing with our lips,

"Frail children of dust,
And feeble as frail,
In Thee do we trust,
Nor find Thee to fail." Amen.

Thursday, February 1, 1979

We acknowledge, our Father, that not every day is a dramatic exciting stirring day.

Some days Lord are dull dreary draggy.

But in such days help us to discover that DEDICATION to one's work makes drudgery—tolerable, disappointment—bearable,

and laziness—overcomable.

In Thy strong name, Amen.

Friday, February 2, 1979

Our Father, we thank Thee for the words of him who wrote: "When God is going to do something good, He starts with a difficulty; when God is going to do something great, He starts with a seeming impossibility."

O God, when we doubt the truth of those words help us to recall the words of the angel to the astonished Mary, "With God nothing shall be impossible." Amen.

Monday, February 5, 1979

O God, Thou who art "love divine all loves excelling", wouldn't it be something if we could discover that praying is like eating peanuts—the more we indulge the more we want?

Whether our prayer life be constant or cursory help us to discover what the poet came to know:

"Lord, what a change within us
One short hour spent in Thy presence
Will avail to make!
What heavy burdens from our bosoms take;
What parched grounds refreshed as with a shower." Amen.

Tuesday, February 6, 1979

Sovereign God, in this arena where so much depends on human relationships and personal interaction help us to remember that if we really love someone, we love him or her as he or she is.

We pray in the name of Him who does not postpone loving us until we measure up, but who loves us just as we are. Amen.

Wednesday, February 7, 1979

Father and friend, we talk much about wanting to burn out rather than rust out. Help us to see that what is important is how brightly we are endeavoring to shine in this hour in this place.

Most of us, our Father, will never be bright and shining lights; we will always be "tapers among the torches." But help us to remember as we stand on and stand for our faith and principles that there is not enough darkness in all the world to extinguish the light of the slimmest taper.

In God's strong Name, Amen.

Thursday, February 8, 1979

Father and Friend, we like to affirm in North Carolina that "pigs are beautiful." Please help us to remember that pigs become hogs because they never look up.

When we keep our heads deep in our own chosen work and go our way in our unaided strength, help us to recall the words of the poet (Tennyson):

"For what are men better than sheep or goats
That nourish a blind life within the brain,
If, knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer
Both for themselves and those who call them friends?"

Amen.

Friday, February 9, 1979

Great God, Thou knowest that whether weather be fair or foul it is not pleasing to all people. To some, the snow of the morning is a delight, to others it is a disaster. Help us to remember that this also applies to human relationships. No matter what they do, to some people the men and women of this House are heroes and idols; to others they are hypocrites and idiots.

Grant, O God, that the judgment and opinions which most concerns the members of this House are Thine. May it be Thy "well done" they seek above all else.

In Thy Holy Name we pray, Amen.

Monday, February 12, 1979

We recall, our Father, the words of the Psalmist:

"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly,
not standeth in the way of sinners, not sitteth in the seat of the scornful, but whose delight is in the law of the Lord."

O God, it isn't easy today to determine who is Godly or ungodly, and if we did know cannot always avoid companioning with them. But with whomever we may companion may our desire be to learn Thy will, and our delight to do Thy will. Amen.

Tuesday, February 13, 1979

Great God, we thank Thee that Thou art perfect in holiness, merciful in judgment, and abundant in forgiveness.

We recall the words of the Psalmist when he declared: "When I consider Thy heavens; the work of thy fingers; the moon and the stars which Thou hast ordained, what is man that Thou art mindful of him?"

We thank Thee that through the Psalmist Thou hast provided the answer:

"Thou hast made him to have dominion over the works of Thy hands. Thou hast put all things under his feet."

Because of such God given powers help the members of this House to remember that there can be no wise dominion over others and their possession until first they have loving and powerful dominion over themselves. Amen.

Wednesday, February 14, 1979

Father and Friend, we thank Thee for memory, which keeps alive the best of yesterday, for faith, which makes encouraging the work of today, for hope, which makes tomorrow joyfully anticipated.

We thank Thee for the seeming success of surgery performed on Representative Bright. In the coming days of recuperation may his body know the fulfillment of the words, "Thy touch has still its ancient power," and may his mind know the fulfillment of the promise, "no word from Thee can fruitless fall."

In Thy strong Name, Amen.

Thursday, February 15, 1979

Blessed God and Loving Father, Thou who hast put life within us and love around us, we thank Thee for liberty to think and the privilege to decide. Yet we know that there are few things more difficult than thinking and deciding; but since the members of this House cannot elect so to act but are obligated to act, enable them by rapt listening and by loyalty to eternal truths to make those decisions, which when moments are memories, will be recollections that delight and excite.

In Thy Holy Name, Amen.

Friday, February 16, 1979

O God, Thou source of peace and power, as problems increase in number and size, enable the members of this House to remember the giant Goliath. May they remember that many saw this 9 feet 9 inches specimen of a man and decided he was too big to tackle. Enable the men and women of this House also to remember that David looked at his sling shot and looked at the giant and said to himself, "that guy is too big to miss."

And so believing he solved the problem.

O God, keep our memories green as we confront our problems. Amen.

Monday, February 19, 1979

O Triune God, Thou who art strong enough to be gentle, the snow that covers roads and streets is a delight to some and a devil to others.

So also is legislation; the laws can be a blessing to some and a bone to others. Help us to remember, our Father, that we can get rid of the snow—salt and sun and street crews will remove it. We wish we could say the same of bad legislation; unlike the snow it can stay with us for a seemingly interminable length of time.

Because of that danger, enable the men and women of this House to be wise, thoughtful, and above all, honest. Amen.

Tuesday, February 20, 1979

Sovereign God, in whose will is our peace and in service to others our joy, we know from experience that the outcome of issues is not favorable to all people; in such days keep us from being like ground-hogs who hole-up, or like sheep who fold-up, rather, make us the sturdy men and women who hold-up. It is much to ask, but our confidence is in the ancient assurance, "God is able to do exceeding abundantly above all we can ask or think." In Thy great Name, Amen.

Wednesday, February 21, 1979

O Sovereign God, the Determiner of our days and the supplier of the needs of all our days, as we find ourselves in the middle of another legislative week we confess that it isn't the salt that loses its savour but the pepper that loses its pep. Therefore we pray in the words of the hymn:

"Revive us again;
Fill each heart with Thy love;
May each soul be rekindled
With fire from above."

In Thy strong Name, Amen.

Friday, February 23, 1979

Father and Friend, Thou whose presence does not depend on the weather nor our love for Thee, we recall the Biblical affirmation, "In quietness and confidence shall be your strength." But for many of the members of this House there are few places for privacy and scant minutes for quiet. And there are some our Father who don't want to slow down; they function best "on the run." But whether these men and women move in low gear or overdrive, may they know that the words are true, "They who wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." Amen.

Monday, February 26, 1979

Great God, we thank Thee for unstoppable time and undeserved mercies which once again bring these men and women to this place of assembly.

As they face another week when they will experience the sting of unjust criticism, the hurt of misinterpreted motives,
the relentless pressure from lobbyists, and sometimes the monotony of daily toil enable them to be the masters of their experiences rather than being mastered by them. May this be possible because they believe Thy promise: "Greater is He that is in you than He that is in the world." Amen.

Tuesday, February 27, 1979

Great God, we thank Thee that for the pilgrimage of life You have provided a Guidebook and a Guide. We thank Thee for the Word and for the Word Incarnate. May the Word ever be a lamp to our feet and a light to our path. May we follow the Guide with the same trust that we follow a hunting guide or a fishing guide; help us to assert by word and affirm by deed, "Where He leads me I will follow." Amen.

Wednesday, February 28, 1979

Most merciful God, with deep humility we pray to Thee. We thank you and praise you for the bountiful blessings which Thou hast continuously showered upon us throughout our lives—which blessings have not been earned, but have been conferred by the grace of a kind, loving and merciful Father.

Throughout this day be with us, and in us, as we assume the awesome responsibilities that have been delegated to us by the people of this Great State—guide our deliberations, monitor our speech and control our every action so that our efforts will benefit those whom we represent—but more important God—that our acts will reflect Thy love and be to Thy honor and glory.

Father, watch over our Speaker and the other leaders of the State, the Nation, and the World so that they, with your help, will through their actions lead us in the path of righteousness and peace for all mankind.

All of this we ask not only for our benefit but for the Glory of Thy Holy Name—Amen.

Thursday, March 1, 1979

Father and Friend, in the midst of all deliberations here and elsewhere help us to remember that there is no right way to do the wrong thing, but that there are many wrong ways to do the right thing. In their quest to do the right may the men and women of this House seek to do it in ways which occasion the slightest hurt and the greatest joy. Amen.

Friday, March 2, 1979

It is good to live in a land of plenty and abundance.

It is good to live in a land of peace and freedom.

It is good to live in a land where we can worship according to the dictates of our concience. And so our prayer is:

God, give us eyes that we might see
The work that can be done for Thee.

God, give us ears that we may hear
The cries of those who need us near.

God, give us lips that we might speak
Comfort and peace to all who seek.

God, give us a mind that we might know,
To help the ones who need us so.

God, give us hands that we might do
Some large or simple task for You.

God, give us prayer that we may pray
Thy help and guidance every day.

And these things all else above;
God, give us a heart that we might love.

Representative Samuel D. Bundy
Pitt County

Monday, March 5, 1979

Gracious God, we thank Thee that when we are too busy with our own small affairs that Thou, who hast the universe to govern, art never too busy to remember us.

As these men and women face another week of legislative labor may each one have a heart stout enough to bear its own burdens, a heart willing enough to bear the burden of others, and a heart believing enough to share all its burdens with Thee.

In Thy strong name, Amen.

Tuesday, March 6, 1979

Sovereign God, when hurriedly and brashly we go our chosen ways, how frequently we have reason to recall the words, "when all else fails consult the directions."

Help us to keep in mind the directions You shared with us so long ago:

"If my people who are called by my name shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land" (2 Chronicles 7:14)

Amen.

Wednesday, March 7, 1979

For the conglomerate that this House is we thank Thee, our Father.

For the ladies with the discernment and viewpoint peculiar to a female.

For those still young enough to know the dreams and aspirations and problems of our youth;

For the middle-aged who know the struggle to make a living and to maintain life on that living;

For the retired who know the anxieties and fears of the aged.

O God, for such a medley and mixture we thank Thee.

From such a body may there come patterns and programs which more and more will benefit all the varied segments of society which is North Carolina.

In God's good name we pray, Amen.

Thursday, March 8, 1979

O Loving God, how true in our world and work are the words which we heard at the opening of this Session:

"No man is an island entire to himself". Most of us in our work have to learn to relate to others, but help us in all our relationships to prove that though we must make contacts we dinna need to conform; though we ought to listen we dinna need to be led;
though we need to entertain other ideas we dinna need to embrace all ideas.

O God, grant wisdom to know that difference and strength to follow where we should. Amen.

Friday, March 9, 1979

Great God,

the lively life of souls that love Thee,
the light of minds that seek Thee,
and the strength of bodies that serve Thee,

We do not come to ask for evasion of conflict or deliverance from the difficult, but we do ask for Heaven's gracious gifts of persistence to follow after what each believes is right and best. But when we don't get what we want help us to want what we get, even if it is the second-best or the third best.

In Thy loving Name, Amen.

Monday, March 12, 1979

Almighty God, we come to Thee with mingled feelings.

There is the nagging knowledge of weekend work left incomplete or undone.

There is the regret that comes from leaving family and home.

There is the disappointment occasioned by the basketball defeats experienced by Carolina and Duke.

But we thank Thee that mingled with the bitter there is the joy that this sun-drenched day has brought to us; there is the beautiful and bountiful land of North Carolina through which many drove in daylight hours; and there is the return to this hallowed place with its challenges and opportunities.

O God, because Thy resources always are adequate, enable these men and women to live victoriously with their disappointments and to live humbly and thankfully with the undeserved blessings.

In Thy great name we pray, Amen.

Tuesday, March 13, 1979

Our Father and our God,

As we wait expectantly for the coming of Spring—we are seeing changes all around us—we see the Jonquils, the Buttercups, Jasmin, the faint budding of the trees. There are also changes, O Lord, that are happening all around us in the lives of people in our state, country, and the world.

Open our eyes and ears to recognize these changes.

Open our hearts with compassion and love to meet these changes.

Open our minds and enter into our deliberations as we discuss and attempt to make the right decisions concerning these changes—decisions that will be pleasing in Thy sight.

These things we ask in Jesus' Holy Name, Amen.

Wednesday, March 14, 1979

Great God, if the turtle ever becomes the official reptile of the State may it not be said of the State what is often said of the Church:

> "Like a mighty turtle, crawls the church of God, > Brothers we are treading where we've always trod."

To the end that the State may not "march in place" grant to the men and women of this House, > not only vision but vigor, > not only foresight but faith, > not only loving candor but lively courage.

Amen.

Thursday, March 15, 1979

Sovereign God, we know that every day we are expected to live fruitfully, joyfully and expectantly; but it isn't easy, Lord, for the men and women of this House so to live when day by day they are burdened by committee meetings, pestered by lobbyists, inundated by mail that requires response, and interrupted by calls and callers. Endow the members of this House with strength for work, discipline and trust so that there may be fewer days when they "hit and miss" and more days when they "run and gun". Amen.

Though we are filled with thanksgiving today for all of these blessings, we must remember the duties that we have to assure these freedoms upon the people of our state. We must never become so busy that we overlook them, and then somehow to wake up and find that we have lost the freedom that we once possessed. Help us also to go beyond the freedom that our forefathers gave us, and to complete the goal of true freedom and equal rights for every man, woman and child in the State of N. C. These goals and responsibilities are too precious for us to ever become neglectful of in any manner, shape, or form. Forgive us when we have not cared deeply about the needs of others, and have excused our indifference by thinking ourselves inherently superior.

Hear our prayers, O Lord. As we pray for these in authority, who lead our State and its government. Give them unswerving dedication to justice and freedom. Help them and give them the guidance to make wholesome decisions that makes for peace, joy, and happiness encircled in the knowledge that we are a free people.

These things and whatever else you hear from the hearts of your people, we ask in your name. Amen.

The Reverend William S. Ketchie
St. John's Lutheran Church
Asheboro, North Carolina

Friday, March 16, 1979

Eternal God our Father, on this day we come praising You for this land and State in which we live. Thank you for the people of this state: the old and the young, the rich and the poor, the laborers, the managers of industry, the artists, the poets, the factory worker and the professionally skilled, for all these contribute to our State's good. We thank You for the divergent backgrounds—for peoples of every tradition, from many nations, of many colors, and of many creeds.

We praise You for a state of abundance. For the mountains and the sea, for rivers and lakes, for rich soil and rare minerals, we thank You.

But more than these, we thank You for things unseen. For conquests of the spirit, forging out a state where freedom is enjoyed, we thank You. For those forefathers who dreamed of a nation and a state conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal, we thank You. For those, who because they worshipped, worked for a government and a people where justice and righteousness would prevail, we thank You.

Monday, March 19, 1979

O Gracious God, as another Legislative week begins help us to know that there is something worse in life than "ring around the collar"; what is worse is a ring through the nose by which we are led where we do not want to go and made to do what we are unwilling to do. For our individual independence help us to find fulfilled in our lives the words of Him who said, "If the Son shall make you free, you shall be free indeed." Amen.

Tuesday, March 20, 1979

Gracious God, with Thy generous gift of memory help us to remember and to heed the wisdom expressed in the words of him who said, "All that is necessary for evil to triumph is for good men to do nothing." Amen.

Wednesday, March 21, 1979

Almighty and most Holy God: We bow before You in prayer this afternoon to ask your blessings upon these sisters and brothers. Be with them as they strive together that their debate and their actions may be done in sincerity, compassion, and love toward each other, and for the people they represent.

On this first day of Spring, we ask that you refresh us all with the newness of life we can see breaking forth outside. Keep us aware, in the newness, of your old, old charge to be a servant people; a people ready to stand with conviction for what is both just and loving.

As we serve you and your people this day, grant us the grace of your peace and your presence for we pray in praise of your most holy name. Amen.

The Reverend Craig Butler
Benton Heights Presbyterian Church
Monroe, North Carolina

Thursday, March 22, 1979

O God, great and good, we thank Thee for the surprises that every Spring day hold for those with eyes to see. But help us to be aware of the surprises that abound in this House every day:

A solitary voice speaks up and out and is surprised with an unexpected following.
Rejection is expected and there is the surprise of acceptance.
Hostility is anticipated and hospitality is manifested.
We think that some have horns only to discover that what they have is halos.

Yet to the biggest surprise of all keep us alert—Thy love for us; not because we deserve it but because Thou hast made us and would ever love us into being better than we are. Amen.

Friday, March 23, 1979

Great God, Shepherd of our lives and Saviour of our souls, be in our brains and in our understanding,

be in our minds and in our thinking.

Be in our mouths and in our speaking, be in our eyes and in our seeing.

And be in our imaginations that the pictures we flash on our inner screens may be less X-rated and more God-rated. Amen.

Tuesday, March 27, 1979

O Sovereign God, our Strength and our Redeemer, in this day of epochal peace treaties help us to remember that there is a peace which is maintained by military power, that there is a peace which is purchased with taxpayers money, and that there is a peace which is Thy gift to Thy people—the peace of Him who said, 'Peace I leave with you, my peace give I unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you; let not your heart be troubled; neither let it be afraid." Amen.

Wednesday, March 28, 1979

Great God, who spread the flowing seas abroad and built the lofty skies, we acknowledge the importance of "keeping in touch."

Keeping in touch preserves and promotes good family life; we know that "keeping in touch" with House Speaker and Committee Chairman results in successful legislation efforts.

Help us also to acknowledge and feel that keeping in touch with Thee is what makes life wholesome and healthy and happy. May we find there is truth in the words of the Scottish poet, "a correspondence fixed wi' Heaven is sure a noble anchor". Amen.

Thursday, March 29, 1979

O God of earth and air and land and sea we thank Thee for the message from the Psalmist (119)

"Whither shall I go from Thy Spirit,

And whither shall I flee from Thy presence?

If I ascend to Heaven,
Thou art there;

If I make my bed in Hell,
behold, Thou art there."

And so our Father if the day be a delight or a drag, demanding or a disaster

help the men and women of this House to know that where they are there Thou art present. Amen.

Friday, March 30, 1979

Almighty God, Our Heavenly Father, we thank you for all the beauty of springtime in which we can see your handiwork. Open our eyes to a deeper appreciation of this world which you have created and entrusted to us to look after for a time. So often when we pray we are asking for something. For a change, Lord, I ask for something to be taken away. Take away bitterness from our hearts, any unfounded resentment of others, any fear of the unknown, and any frustration over things we cannot control. Remove stubborn pride that keeps us from seeing our own faults, and any barriers which close our hearts to one another. In a fresh sense of freedom and openness may these people, our representatives, your creatures, be about their work today, reminded once again this is your world, and we are merely its caretakers. Thank you, Lord, for this day. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

The Reverend David Jenkins
First Presbyterian Church
Goldsboro, North Carolina

Monday, April 2, 1979

O Lord: To our forefathers, our fathers, and to us, You have given this good land—and we are grateful. We are mindful of our glorious heritage—of the awesome responsibilities now at hand—and of the high degree of stewardship that we must exercise at such a time as this.

We ask for strength equal to our tasks that in addressing the mandates of our time, all legislative bodies will strive to—establish a more perfect union —provide for the common defense —promote the general welfare —and insure domestic tranquility.

Sensitize us to hear and heed the words of a good man of long ago, who said: "Except the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it. Except the Lord keep the city the watchman waketh but in vain."

Whenever we try help us.

Whenever we pray hear us.

O Lord, remember not our transgressions!

Preserve the land, bless the State, and save the Nation!

In the strength of your mighty power and in the name of Your Blessed Son we pray. Amen.

The Reverend Earle R. Haire

Tuesday, April 3, 1979

Almighty God, we recall the words:

> "Happy are you when people insult you and > persecute you, and tell all kinds of evil > lies against you, because you are my > followers."

But Lord, we are not always happy under such circumstances because we are human and we want to be accepted and loved. And yet, Lord, help us to recall that if we have only friends and no foes then we are standing for nothing and falling for everything. Forbid that it be so, O God. Amen.

Wednesday, April 4, 1979

Great God, above us and beyond us, beside us and within us, help us to remember that eternal word which says:

"Love is not touchy or irritable, arrogant or rude; but love is patient and kind and holds no grudges."

O God, in our behavior help some of us to move from where we are to where we ought to be and want to be. In this hour we pray also for Representative Hux on the death of his sister. Help him and all in the families to know Thy peace and Thy power through these days of sadness and loss. Amen.

Thursday, April 5, 1979

Almighty God, Thou who art from everlasting to everlasting, whose strength is adequate for every need, and whose grace is greater than our sin, we recall the exhortation in Thy word to shine as lights in the darkness. When we do shine help us to shine with the strong white light of purity, truth and courage.

In Thy great Name, Amen.

Friday, April 6, 1979

Our Father, we are reminded in the scriptures that we have been created a little less than the angels. Therefore, we are aware of our continual short-comings. However, Father, we are also aware that you will bestow wisdom upon those who seek it.

As we pause in this moment of meditation and prayer may we be refreshed to face the responsibilities before us.

We are thankful for this body who faithfully give of themselves in the pursuit of the best interests of our state. May you grant them wisdom, patience, and courage for the tasks before them. In Jesus' name, Amen.

The Reverend Joel Jenkins
Momeyer, North Carolina

Monday, April 9, 1979

Almighty and Ever Blessed God, we thank Thee for another week that stretches before us.

In this week when we want to bite somebody's head off, help us instead to bite our lips.

When we want to chew out somebody, help us instead to chew the cud of something previously pleasant.

When we want to stand up and speak out may we demonstrate that we have wisdom as well as wind.

Thus in our conduct may we indicate that we are friends and followers of Thine. Amen.

Tuesday, April 10, 1979

O Sovereign God, forgive us for our abuse of many gifts.

How many of us used this morning the horns of our cars not to prevent accidents but to express exasperation? How many of us slammed doors this morning not to close them but to express profanity and anger? And when we think of power, how many regard it as a triumph rather than a trust? Enable the men and women of this House, who have vast power in their hands to regard that power as a tool that, with worthy expectations, others have placed in their hands.

In Thy powerful Name we pray, Amen.

Wednesday, April 11, 1979

O God, Holy and Ever-Helpful, on this bright day our prayer would be the words of the poet:

"For the beauty of the earth,
For the beauty of the skies,
For the love which from our birth,
Over and around us lies,
Lord of all, to Thee we raise
These our words of grateful praise".

Amen.

Thursday, April 12, 1979

O Sovereign God, we do not stand before Thee as hookers and hijackers or as pimps and peddlers of dope, but we do stand before Thee as men and women who have their own particular faults.

We are so ready to complain about what is wrong and slow to praise what is good. We readily believe what we hear about people to the degree it relates to evil and wrong-doing.

We love power and are more interested in being masters than servants.

O God help us to see that nice people and good people need Thy saving grace as much as hijackers and hookers. In Thy strong Name. Amen.

Friday, April 13, 1979

O Sovereign God, maybe it is appropriate that the State Legislature be in session during the spring season, because Spring weather is so much like us, unable to make up its mind whether to be blustery or balmy, cold or hot,

sunshine or rain.

Help us to realize that when we can't make up our minds, and would avoid the issue, the decisions we refuse to make are as serious as those we do make. On this Good Friday help us to remember Pilate who dodged his responsibility but who could not evade the consequences of his refusal to decide.

In Thy name we pray, Amen.

Tuesday, April 17, 1979

Our Father, we thank you for this beautiful spring day which reflects Your handiwork at every turn. As we begin another legislative week we ask that Your guidance will be felt during the deliberations that occur in this hall. We pray that you will show us the importance of our being able to disagree without being disagreeable; to endure failure and shortcomings without feeling rejection and displaying sour grapes; to realize success and accomplishment without being vain and presumptuous.

And as we enter the home stretch of this legislative session, we pray that you will illuminate the paths that will lead to ultimate decisions which will affect our state and its citizens.

Rep. J. Howard Coble

Wednesday, April 18, 1979

Almighty God, how well we know and sincerely acknowledge that without Thee so little is achievable and that with Thee so much is attainable. Because we so believe we pray that in this hour Thou wilt help us from arguing to show how right we are, and that Thou wilt teach us to discuss that we may learn what is right.

In Thy great Name, Amen.

Thursday, April 19, 1979

O Loving and forgiving God, the invisible cause of so much that is visible, we thank Thee for every expression of Thyself in nature, history and human lives.

As these men and women assemble for another session may they bring to Thee not only the love of their hearts but also the service of their minds; thus may that which is concluded this day bring benefit to the citizens of the State and joy to those members of the House whose labors are represented in these achievements. Amen.

Friday, April 20, 1979

Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this day. We are grateful for the privilege and the responsibility of being here. Grant unto those in authority in our great State the freedom to speak and the desire for others to speak.

Grant these leaders to know that politics did not put them here, but that we who trust them and believe in them put them here.

Guide them by Thy spirit and use us for Thyself.

In Christ's name, Amen.

The Reverend Ralph Epps
Englewood United Methodist Church
Rocky Mount, N. C.

Monday, April 23, 1979

Great God, in whose image we are created, and for whose purposes we are designed and engineered, as another legislative week begins our prayer is that Thou wilt create within us a character and spirit in harmony with the beauty of nature which adorns our land at this season of the year. But we recognize, our Father, that the dogwood petals will decay and the azalea blossoms will fall, but with Thy help may neither the winds of selfish pressure or the rains of unmerited criticism blighten the spirit or cause to degenerate the character of the men and women of this House.

We pray in Thy strong name, Amen.

Tuesday, April 24, 1979

We come to Thee, Our Father, in the name of Him who came to set the captives free. We recognize that the captives are not the inhabitants of Central Prison or other institutions of correction, but the captives are ourselves. Thou knowest how many of us are the prisoners of selfish self, fear, envy, greed and other vicious masters. May we find the freedom Thou dost make available, and in this individual freedom may the men and women of this House think honestly and act righteously on behalf of the needs, hopes, fears and rights of all citizens of our State.

In God's strong Name we pray, Amen.

Wednesday, April 25, 1979

Our Heavenly Father, we thank you for another beautiful day with its many challenges. We are grateful for life and its many gifts which you so generously give. Help us to work and apply ourselves in such a way as elected representatives of the people of this state that you will say when the day is ended, well done, thy good and faithful servant. This we ask in thy holy name. Amen.

Rep. Bobby R. Etheridge

Thursday, April 26, 1979

We remember, our Father, that the Bible speaks of a balm in Gilead. On the House floor today there are men, O Lord, who anxiously seek a balm for aches and pains and sore muscles and injured bodies. We thank Thee that their efforts against the South Carolina House were successful. With the same fervor and self-forgetful spirit may all members of this House work for the successful passage of all worthy legislation. For the wounds that may be afflicted may there be the peace which comes from knowing they have followed Thy will as they understand Thy will to be. Amen.

Friday, April 27, 1979

God the omnipotent, King who ordainest, there was a time when You led your people through trackless desert wastes with a pillar of cloud by day and pillar of fire by night. For us there are many days when we wish that Your guidance was as visible and easy to follow. But we can expect no such physical miracles; we just thank You for the guidance that comes from the experiences of the past, for the contemplative powers of our minds, and for the knowledge that Thy will is always represented by the most costly choice to be made and most hazardous path to follow.

In Thy great Name, Amen.

Tuesday, May 1, 1979

Great God, what would it be like if each one of us when speaking had to take an oath, "to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

And yet, Lord, if we are Yours and You are ours are we not under obligation to utter sound words at all times?

Help us also to remember that when we speak half-truths it is very difficult for hearers to decide which half is true.

In the name of Him who is the Truth, Amen.

Wednesday, May 2, 1979

Great God, source of creation, sustentation, and redemption, we acknowledge that in all of us there is a mean streak; like the fat in the bacon the streak is often wider and longer than it ought to be. Because of this it is difficult for us to be

> Magnamious when we want to be little, > charitable when we want to be greedy, > and kind when we want to be mean.

But this is why we come to Thee in prayer, our Father.

It is to acknowledge our need and to pray that we shall discover anew the truth—"with Thee all things are possible." Amen.

Thursday, May 3, 1979

Great God, Creator, Sustainer, Redeemer and Friend, help us to remember the words of him who said, "Some minds are like concrete; thoroughly mixed and firmly set."

Deliver us, O God, from the destructive duality of confused minds and closed minds. By Thy Spirit keep the minds open and alert so that when a member of this House votes he or she can do it with sound conviction and clear conscience. Amen.

Friday, May 4, 1979

Sovereign God, we recall the words of the poet (Frost):

> "The woods are lovely dark and deep,
> But I have promises to keep,
> And miles to go before I sleep,"

Judging from the appearance of the calendar there are miles of work before there are miles of travel. And so we pray, our Father, that Thou wilt keep minds open as well as alert.
Grant joy in labor, good-will in fellowship, and muscle and marrow for weary bones.

In Thy strong Name, Amen.

Monday, May 7, 1979

Great God,

Thou who hast created us, and redeemed us, and who calls us by name, we stand on the threshold of another week which may well be characterized by the Dismal D's of divorce, daily subsistence and delay. But in the midst of the dismal D's help us to remember the Cheerful C's:

Conviction—being able to say here stand I;
I can do no other.

Courage—brave action in the face of fear.

Cheerfulness—for there is nothing worse than doing good in a sour spirit.

Companionship—the fulfillment of Thy promise,
"I am with you always, everywhere."

Amen.

Tuesday, May 8, 1979

We thank Thee, our Father, for this enjoyable forum of free expression; for its leadership and its members. We thank Thee that on the floor of this House there can be intense expression of personal conviction without verbal abuse or injury. We thank Thee that on the floor of this House there can be honest disagreement that does not impair friendship or camaraderie.

Keep alive, O God, the privilege of individual expression and the unity of common purpose.

In Thy strong Name, Amen.

Wednesday, May 9, 1979

Lord of all things, whose wondrous providence to man includes the gift of speech, we thank Thee for the mighty power of the spoken word. For this afternoon our prayer would be that in number, words will be limited, but in content, they will be illuminating;

in tone, they will be convincingly audible, yet always generously kind;
in purpose, they will be lofty and unselfish.

This prayer we offer in the name of the Word Incarnate, Amen.

Thursday, May 10, 1979

O God Thou who art omniscient as well as omnipotent and omnipresent. You know the questions that throng our minds:

Why be honest, when nearly everyone expects a politician to be dishonest?
Why control the tongue when thunder and storm have greater impact than light and quiet?
Why be clean and good when S. O.'s seem to live so long and prosper so well?

Yet, Lord, we not only have to live with ourselves but also with Thee, and we must also look at ourselves as well as be looked at by Thee. And we know that some of us ain't much to look at, and never will be, therefore help us to look good inside where it matters most of all. Amen.

Friday, May 11, 1979

O God, do you ever get tired of people as we grow weary with other people? Do you tauten and flinch when you see us approaching and wonder what is our peeve or our project?

O God, do you ever wish you could turn on your heel and walk away from us and have nothing to do with us?

We know you could, but we know also you won't because you are God and not man. But we are human, and we are beset by faults and frailties; O God, when these faults are more obvious than they ought to be help us to claim the ancient promise, "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and He will sustain thee." (Psalm 55:22) Amen.

Monday, May 14, 1979

Almighty God, we have sense enough not to expect wages without work, energy without food, strength without exercise or health without sleep

May we also have sense enough to know that prayer without work is foolish and work without prayer is futile.

Help us then so to work and pray that our hearts are in our work and our work is in our hearts. Amen.

Tuesday, May 15, 1979

Almighty God, Thou wouldst have us bring both head and heart to our work. May the men and women of this House give their heads to the lobbyists, but may they give their hearts to the thousands of citizens who have no lobby and who are powerless unless these Representatives care for them and champion them.

We pray in Thy holy name, Amen.

Wednesday, May 16, 1979

Almighty God, invisible yet seeing, inaudible yet hearing, the words we offer in prayer are easy to speak but difficult to affirm with our hearts and minds:

"Have thine own way, Lord,
have Thine own way,
Thou art the Potter, I am the clay,
Mold me and make me
after Thy will,
While I am waiting yielded and still."

Amen

Thursday, May 17, 1979

Almighty God, author of liberty and source of our freedom, we thank Thee that our relationships with Thee are not a gamble because Thy promises never fail of fulfillment. As we give Thee opportunity to fulfill abundantly every unchanging, unretractable promise may we then affirm with the poet:

"He giveth more grace when the burdens grow greater,
He sendeth more strength when the labors increase."

Amen.

Friday, May 18, 1979

O Bountiful God, Thou who hast so generously provided the beauty of the earth and the glory of the sky, ever help us to remember that only principles are eternal, and that laws are temporary. As these men and women work to fashion and establish the laws under which we will live enable them so to think and act that they can in the daytime quietly defend their decisions before their constituents, and in the night-time they can peaceably justify in Thy sight their behavior and their actions. Amen.

Monday, May 21, 1979

O God, help us to remember that we are made to laugh and smile as well as frown and groan.

During the long days and tedious hours that lie ahead help the men and women of this House to remember they sought the job rather than the job seeking them.

When problems seem insurmountable and the burdens unbearable help us to claim fulfillment of the promise, "Cast all thy burdens upon the Lord and He shall sustain thee." Amen.

Tuesday, May 22, 1979

Our Father who art in Heaven and with us here, each one of us wants to feel that he or she is important. When no others but ourselves think we are important, keep us from sulking, and help us to see that only by forgetting ourselves can we bear cheerfully the forgetfulness of others. Keep us from seeking importance by lengthy statements or unimportant questions or over-long prayers.

When we want to know we are important help us to remember that You claim us as friend and You call us by name.

What more can we expect? Amen.

Wednesday, May 23, 1979

Great God, you do not need our praise, but we need to praise you in order that You may be where You ought to be—at the center of our lives.

But may our praise be more than words. May these men and women know that they praise Thee best when they cast their votes. Grant such willingness to praise Thee that when another wearying day is over they shall rest and rest in peace. Amen.

Thursday, May 24, 1979

Sovereign God, we praise Thee for the past, trust Thee for the future, and confidently look to Thee for guidance through the afternoon hours of this session.

No member of this House can know everything about every bill, and some may not only be aware of their ignorance, but also experience the futility of feeling that their input is in vain. When we are so vexed it is easy to adopt a careless "hit or miss" attitude. When this happens let it be remembered that such a philosophy causes more misses than hits.

To the end that this may be avoided may the members of this House stay mentally alert, intensely involved and sit with energy. In Thy good Name we pray, Amen.

Monday, May 28, 1979

O God, we thank Thee that Thou are compassionate and caring.

Thou dost behold these men and women once again assembled.

Some are thrilled by the prospect of renewed involvement,
Some are tortured by decisions yet to be made,
Some are tormented by the actions of others,
Some are tuckered out by week-end activities.

Whatever the condition, may Thy strengthening presence enable these men and women to be guided in their every action not by deadness or dullness, selfish ambition,

or by unstable emotion

but by clear and calm conviction.

In Thy great Name, Amen.

Tuesday, May 29, 1979

We thank Thee, Our Father, that there are no "killer bees" in this House, but we do know that some have the "killer instinct". Enable us to remember that it isn't enough only to love those who love us; always may we be mindful that whatever credit we may be given has its source in doing good to those who may be strangers to us.

We pray in the great Name of Him to whom no one is a stranger, Amen.

Wednesday, May 30, 1979

Almighty God, although there may be scarcity of energy that has its origin in the earth, we thank Thee that there is no shortage of the energy which is yours to give.

Help us to know that Your energy has no uncertain, escalating price, but the cost is our acknowledgment that we need it and our willingness to receive it.

May the men and women of this House receive enough of your energy to keep them lively, laughing and laboring.

We ask this of Thee to whom nothing is impossible. Amen.

Friday, June 1, 1979

Almighty God, Thou who hast made man to have dominion over the works of Thy hands we enjoy having dominion over everything and everyone except ourselves. Help us to remember that it is written, "Greater is he that ruleth his own spirit than he that captureth a city." Amen.

Monday, June 4, 1979

Almighty God, unlimited in power and abundant in mercy, already this day many of the men and women of this House have spent exhausting hours which have drained away energy. Thus may this moment of prayer be an oasis of restoration and refreshment; let it be so because we claim fulfillment of the promise made by the indestructible Man of Galilee, "Come unto me all ye who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you refreshment." Amen.

Tuesday, June 5, 1979

Our Father, You ask those who believe in You to let our light shine before others, but there can be no shining light unless we make time to fill our lamp and clean the shade.

These moments of prayer are not lengthy, but may they be sufficient to light the wick, and may each light that shines, however feeble, be a guide that illuminates the way for those who walk in darkness.

In the Name of the Light of the World, we pray, Amen.

Wednesday, June 6, 1979

Father of mercies and God of all comfort help us to believe that Thou canst make us be better than we are,

wiser than we know,
and stronger than we dream.

We know that this House is still pregnant with good ideas and high intentions. Forbid that what is needed by the citizens of our State shall die in the womb or be still-born.

So fill these men and women with life and love and joy of labor that by their wise effort the small shall become great and the great become possible. Amen.

Thursday, June 7, 1979

Father and Friend, enable the men and women of this House to remember that they represent people who are paying sixty-five cents a pound for pig ears.

Lord, I don't know much about pig ears but it seems a high price to pay unless you plan to make a silk purse; but what is the good of a silk purse if you have nothing to put in it.

May these men and women be the help of the helpless until the gavels sound simultaneously.

We pray in the Name of the ever present Help of the Helpless. Amen.

Friday, June 8, 1979

O Holy God, Friend unseen but Presence felt, may there be no feeling that today this session of the House is "winding down", rather may we view it as a "winding up." Just as we wind up a machine to enable it to run and to operate and to function, so may the work of this day complete the "winding up" of the machinery whereby the State will be operated more efficiently, and for all its citizens, more effectively. In months to come when the worthiness or unworthiness of the labors of the past months become evident may there be no stealing of credit for success or denial of blame for failure. We thank Thee for leadership that has been firm and fair and so effective; we praise Thee for the behavior and camaraderie of the members of this House, and we recall also with thanksgiving the conduct of those visitors who from day to day have occupied the gallery.

Now and in days to come may God bless us and keep us, cause His face to shine upon us, and be gracious to us, unworthy and undeserving as we are. Amen.

ADDENDUM

It will be noted that a number of bills and resolutions passed second reading and then were read a third time on the same day.

Rule 41(b) states:

> No bill shall be read more than once in the same day without the concurrence of two-thirds (2/3) of the members present and voting.

In order to comply with this Rule, no bill which had passed its second reading is read a third time except:

(1) When a member moves that the Rule be suspended, and this motion carries by at least a two-thirds vote of the members present.

(2) When the Chair determines that there is no objection from any member present. This constitutes unanimous consent of those members present that Rule 41(b) be suspended.

In these cases, the bill is read a third time.

INDEX GUIDE

Following each bill title, the last action or present status of said bill is indicated. For example, a bill postponed indefinitely will be denoted "P.P.I.", or a bill ratified will be followed by its chapter number in the Session Laws. If the bill remains in committee, the name of the committee is so noted. If the bill has passed the House and been sent to the Senate, this is indicated by the word "Senate".
